DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press).—Measures to be taken toward setting up a new government in Ireland for carrying out the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty, were considered by the cabinet of the Dail Eireann at a meeting today in the Mansion House. One of the first moves, it is understood, will be the appointment of a commission to proceed to London and confer with the British government. It is regarded likely that Dublin Castle will be taken over from the English within the next few days. Cabinet circles anticipate this will be an event of the utmost importance in the minds of the Irish people, as a historic step towards the fulfillment of Ireland's aspirations.

The release of the political prisoners by Great Britain is expected in a day or two.

Nothing has as yet transpired here regarding any plans the opponents of the treaty may be formulating.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press).—The Westminster Gazette calls upon the British government to assemble parliament as soon as possible, next week at the latest, to give formal authority to the new Irish government. The newspaper calls attention to the anomalous position of Arthur Griffith's provisional government, and until it receives this authority, and

INCREASE IN
CITY BUDGETBelieved That Estimates for 1922 Will Exceed Expectations for 1921Printed Schedules of Estimates for Expenditures Received by City Auditor

There is a general feeling that throughout all city departments estimates of expenditures for 1922 will be submitted in excess of 1921 expenditures, but this does not necessarily mean a larger budget in total as the city council has the last word as to its ultimate amount.

The printed schedules of estimates for expenditures have been received by the city auditor, who will distribute them to the municipal departments this afternoon.

The schedule sheets are different in many ways from those formerly used and it is said that they will be more simple to study and much easier to handle.

The schedules are ruled off into eight columns, captioned as follows: Appropriation 1921—Expended 1921—Amount Unexpended—Estimates for 1922—Budget Commission Recommendation—Mayor's Recommendation—City Council Recommendation—Remarks.

It was learned today that when the estimated budget of the department of engineering is submitted, it will include sufficient money to care for the scrapping and painting of the bridges in the city which seem most in need of such repair.

The park department will seek to obtain additional money for the further improvement of Shedd park, although Superintendent Kernan does not know the approximate amount of his estimate.

When all schedules are returned to the mayor they will be complete up to that point which includes the estimate for 1922 and after that the columns will be filled in by the budget commission, the mayor and councilors. The city council recommendation is final in every instance. When the estimates come to them they may make any revisions downward they see fit, but under the charter the budget cannot be increased over the recommendations of the mayor and budget and audit commission.

Mayor Brown has asked that the schedules be returned to him on Jan. 16, next Monday, and while this may be done by some of the smaller departments, the larger ones cannot possibly prepare their estimates by that time.

The weather man scored today, making his January average five up and a few more to go.

Sweeping down from the far northeast and also from the upper corner of the east, an old-fashioned New England winter storm with blizzard-like aspirations struck Lowell this morning soon after local commuters arrived at their places of employment, and before noon the city was under a good-sized blanket of snow.

The weather man expects it to be a good deal colder by nightfall and there is likely to be a continuance of the storm all night and into tomorrow. During the morning the northeast winds increased, and frequent changes came that direction to dead calms, with the heavy snow in all directions with gale force. Tonight northeast and east winds are predicted, with increasing intensity.

SUNDAY SHOW QUESTION

Mayor Meets Representative of Local Theatre Managers
—No Statement

As the result of a meeting of local theatre managers last night, one representative was authorized to seek an interview with Mayor George H. Brown, which was granted early this afternoon and pending the result of the conference, no action has been taken by the theatre men regarding their applications for licenses next Sunday.

It is understood that the theatre men are of two minds on the Sunday license question. They say in reply to Mayor Brown's indirect announcement to them that he will allow them to operate only on a 50-cent basis with some worthy charity, that they feel that a 10-cent donation to charity of their net profits in all that can be stood, and while this has not been delivered in the form of an ultimatum, nevertheless it is the general feeling that prevails.

The mayor could not be reached at his office this morning, as he was attending a meeting of the memorial auditorium commission of which he is a member ex-officio.

SALARY INCREASES AT CITY HALL

Payrolls for the first week of the new year, submitted to the city auditor show that in the case of five city employees, salary increases have been granted. Eugene Toomey, storekeeper for the street department, goes from $34.50 to $35.50 per week. The three clerks in the street department office each receive an increase of $1.25 per week, and Miss Anna Wood, clerk in the office of the inspector of vires, has been increased from $24.25 to $25 per week.

Company Gets Its Milk in St. Johnsbury, Vt.

Ten cent milk for Lowell is in the offing.
The Sun was informed today by the Plymouth Creamery company, which recently smashed the price of milk down to 11 cents a quart, that 10-cent milk is not an impossibility within a short time.

Eugene F. Callahan, president and general manager of the company that has headquarters at 155 Middlesex st., declared that he falls to understand why some people think there is any mystery about the Plymouth milk and the low price it is now selling for. "The main plant, our headquarters, is in St. Johnsbury, Vt., you probably know where that place is. It is one of the biggest milk producing and shipping headquarters in New England, and handles the very finest kind of milk, besides, as every New England farmer knows, we are simply buying our milk, paying the farmers decent prices and are able to bring it to Lowell and distribute it at a fair profit."

Mr. Callahan indicated that the Plymouth creamery wasn't out to become a Rockefeller combination in a day. The company is satisfied with decent profits which will increase, Mr. Callahan said, as the 11-cent milk is further distributed. He told all callers today that hundreds of new customers are putting their names on the books for deliveries every morning.

Qualifies as Member

Mayor George H. Brown qualified before the city clerk as a member of the memorial auditorium commission this morning, and at 10 o'clock attended the meeting of the commission, called primarily for the purpose of approving bills. The entire commission was present, excepting Walter L. Parker, who is in Florida, and also C. H. Hinchall, architect, Harry Truett Graves and William Drapau, contractor.

The entire auditorium plan was gone over very carefully for the benefit of Mayor Brown and matters of future procedure on the part of the commission were discussed.

Up and Robbed Two
Local Storekeepers

Following two hold robberies committed in stores in Coburn and Thorndike streets last night, the police today acquired every effort to bring about a capture of the gunmen who, after snatching their victims' money, escaped with approximately $50 from each place.

It was shortly after 3 o'clock when two men entered the store of Max Rindler at 43 Coburn street, at a time when the proprietor was alone. The robbers first asked for a package of cigars and when Rindler had his back turned to them as he was making change from a cash register, the two men, pointing guns at his head, ordered him to throw up his hands and to refrain from making any outcry at the risk of his life.

Frightened and gazing into the muzzle of two revolvers, the storekeeper obeyed their command and the two men went through the cash register which contained about $50. The police were informed by Mr. Rindler, who furnished them with what they had obtained in the register, the men struck the proprietor over the head with something Rindler was unable to determine, knocking him for the time unconscious. As the men lay on the floor, the robbers went through his pockets and then, after again warning him to remain quiet or they would take his life, they walked out of the store. Almost immediately after, Mr. Rindler summoned the police and Sgt. Blaglow, with a chauffeur, was dispatched to the scene. A close search of the district failed to reveal the two men. About 20 minutes after the Rindler robbery had been reported to headquarters, the police received another call to a store at 235 Thorndike street, conducted by Mr. Peter Coury, and learned the latter had been robbed by two men who brandished revolvers.

The police here were told the exact circumstances of the hold-up and the details tallied with those obtained from Rindler at the Coburn street robbery. Mr. Coury had likewise been ordered to throw up his hands at the point of guns displayed by both gunmen while they rifled the cash register of about $50.

The authorities believe the same two gunmen were responsible for both jobs, an automobile carrying them from Coburn to Thorndike street in about the period of time that intervened between the two hold-ups. Whether or not they had a chauffeur operating the car the police could not ascertain from the meagre information furnished them by the two men who had been made their victims.

Both Mr. Rindler and Mr. Coury, however, while they could not give a vivid description of the robbers agreed that they were about 25 years old. Police activities throughout the night failed to uncover any trace of the escaped gunmen but early this morning the inspectors' department under the direction of Capt. Atkinson inaugurated a sweeping investigation which is hoped will eventually result in the apprehension of the two guilty ones.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—Roscoe Arbuckle's second trial on a charge of manslaughter, in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, took the top place on the calendar today, before Judge Louderback. The jury in the first case disagreed.

Attorneys for both defense and prosecution have expressed belief that this trial will be longer than the first one. It is expected to develop into a legal battle between Matthew Brady, district attorney of San Francisco county, and Gaven McNab, chief of the Arbuckle defense staff.

A venire of 60 has been called and several days are expected to pass before selection of a jury has been completed.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The records of the Suffolk county grand jury of December, 1918, were offered by Attorney General J. The hearing today continued on the specification which charges that Pelletier failed from improper motives to prosecute a ring of alleged automobile thieves.

The grand jury record showed that indictments were voted against George T. Perry, a lawyer, and six others on Dec. 4, 1918, and that this action was rescinded several days later. No indictments were returned.

The prosecution contends that Pelletier allowed Perry to go before the grand jury after this in-

DECREASE IN CITY'S
BORROWING CAPACITY

The city of Lowell will have a borrowing capacity for 1922 of $712,513.07, or a decrease from last year of $532,375, when the borrowing capacity was $1,244,888.07.

On Jan. 1, 1922, the city was $384,535.82 away from the debt limit compared with Jan. 1, 1921, when the distance from the debt limit was $366,266.07.

The figures for this year have been determined by making the necessary deductions from a recapitulation of all assessments upon real and personal estate for 1921 as well as the total valuation of all properties, real and personal for last year, a complete report of which has been received by the city auditor from the board of assessors. This report is annual, but this year it has been submitted about two weeks prior to the usual time.

The figures also show that the limit of municipal debt for this year, based upon valuation of properties, will be $2,955,251.07.

COASTING ACCIDENT

Another coasting accident occurred late yesterday afternoon at the junction of Bowers and Fletcher streets, but fortunately no one was seriously injured. It seems that a couple of boys were coasting down Bowers street on a sled shortly after 5 o'clock and were gliding across Fletcher street when an automobile owned by Fred H. Rotter, and operated by Leo F. McCarthy of 70 Wallis street came in sight in Fletcher street. The driver of the car applied the brakes, but the auto skidded and side-swiped the sled, throwing its occupants to the ground. One of the boys named Robidoux, aged about 10 years and residing in Bowers street, received a cut over the right eye and received treatment at the Lowell Corporation hospital.

MATHEW TEMPERANCE INSTITUTE CONCERT

The 1922 Musical Revue by the MatheW Temperance Institute will be presented in Associate hall tomorrow evening and every indication points to a repetition of the success attained in previous years. The final rehearsal was held last night and everyone in the cast evidenced a perfect understanding and thorough training in his or her specialty.

The performance will begin with a humorous prologue, "The New Year," written and delivered by J. Eugene Mullin, the MatheW's leading comedian. All the soloists who follow are exceptionally skilled performers, with past reputations to live up to or increase. Miss Sadie Sheehan, gifted contralto, Miss Emily Gandette, the premier soprano, who sang the leading part in "Springtime" last fall; the versatile Dion sisters, Misses Alice, Bertha and Mary; Charles J. Keyes, another "Springtime" favorite; and an old-timer with the MatheW's, Patrick Maguire, widely-known and esteemed comedian in MatheW and other shows; James (Roundy) Roane, one of the most popular ballad singers in the city; James Deignan, who sings character and "straight" numbers equally well; Edward Donahue, one of the MatheW's favorite tenors for several years; and an excellent and well known male quartet, are some of the attractions offered in tomorrow evening's musical revue.

In addition to these big-time singers a chorus of 100 young men and women, attractively costumed, will lend their assistance on many of the numbers, and it may be said that the chorus will introduce some skillful and pretty features.

LOWELL MAN ON VISIT FROM ROUMANIA

Charles Edouard Bourk, a native of this city, who has been connected with the American consular service for the past five or six years, is now visiting his mother, Mrs. Alexandra Bourk, a former resident of this city and now residing in Lowell. The young man will come to this city next Tuesday and will remain here three days during which time he will be pleased to meet his former friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Bourk is a graduate of the Lowell high school. At one time he was employed in the local office of the Eastern Massachusetts St. Ry. Co., and later he went to Washington, D. C., where he entered the consular service as a clerk. During his years in the service he has traveled in practically every part of the world. He is now located in Roumania, where he is connected with a large United States corporation. He is a member of the C. M. A. C. and next Tuesday he will attend the regular meeting of the organization and it is expected that he will deliver a lecture on his travels.

Ten Cent Milk for Lowell

The 11-cent milk has apparently made a ten-cent milk in all sections of the city. Milk is now distributed in all sections of the city. There are several delivery trucks, and every bottle is delivered in the morning at the homes desiring it.

Mr. Callahan wants his customers and all prospective ones to know that the Plymouth milk is thoroughly pasteurized and put up in sanitary bottles. The milk is always under constant supervision and inspection, and runs high in volume of necessary food values to make it ideal for children as well as for all home uses.

The Plymouth company leads New England in getting milk prices down to the 11-cent basis. The company's management and the wholesaler are being taken care of as well as the retail branch and of course wholesalers get a still lower price so they can have a fair profit.

The creamery is not a new concern, Mr. Callahan said today. It is really ten years old, and the entire plant is in splendid shape to do business in Lowell and vicinity. Deliveries are promptly made, and every section of the city is covered by salesmen.

"In disposing of milk to the wholesale trade," said Mr. Callahan, "we are saving them from 15 to 20 cents a can on the milk they buy from us. That is some saving, isn't it, considering also the low price we charge?"

Mr. Callahan wants it known that the concern deeply appreciates the Lowell public's generous welcome and patronage. He said he would endeavor before long to cut the price to 10 cents, just as quickly as conditions warrant it. He believed 10-milk might come within a short time, and when the producing situation is just right, Lowell customers of the company will get the benefit promptly.

The more we sell, the greater will be our volume of business and the sooner we can cut down the price," said Mr. Callahan. "We are an independent concern. No one is going to dictate to us how to run our business or tell us what we must charge for our milk. They have tried it many times, but we haven't been nipped. We can do business in Lowell and other cities and make money without charging exorbitant prices for our pasteurized milk. And let it be known that our milk, even if the price looks low, is the finest standard milk in New England today. Ask any health authority. And we are having no trouble getting it. There is plenty of milk everywhere, and that is why, for one thing, we are able to do business in every section with convincing effect. Miss

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"The Son of William," one of the most spectacular and human screen productions of the season, and "A Victim of the Situation," the feature contribution on the Strand bill for the first part of the week, will be shown for the last time today. If you haven't seen them be sure to avail yourself of the last opportunity today. It's a truly worth-while bill.

Peters, assisted by Irene Rich, Eddy, Almsworth and other screen favorites, will be one of the features for the week-end, starting with matinee on Thursday. This is a strong drama by Charles Kenyon, author of the famous American play, "Kindling." It is essentially the story of the regeneration of a former thief, but emphasizes the difficulties that his wife overcomes rather than the underworld activities of gangsters.

There's a big kick in "High Heels," the latest Gladys Walton feature. It's a snappy drama of a society flapper's awakening to the meaning of life and love. It has the proverbial pep and punch with Miss Walton at her best. See it.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Capacity audiences are still the rule at the Merrimack Square theatre where "The Sheik," the noted George D. Melford, Paramount production of Arabian life, is playing a week's engagement. The photoplay has made a decided hit in Lowell and there are already indications that a week's engagement will be none too long to give the photoplay lovers of Lowell and the surrounding towns who wish to see the picture an opportunity to do so.

The featured players in "The Sheik" are Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino. Miss Ayres is a star in her own right well known to Paramount audiences, while Mr. Valentino who was famed by his remarkable performance in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," is regarded by critics as one of the best leading men of the screen. He has what is known as "class" and in the title role of "The Sheik" his dominating personality asserts itself in every scene with convincing effect. Miss

Ayres in "Forbidden Fruit," a Cecil B. De Mille production, won recognition for her skill as a dramatic actress. Again in his "The Affairs of Anatol" she makes the use of the musical art forced her to none of those of that recent masterpiece. The combination of Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino makes "The Sheik" additionally powerful.

Performances of "The Sheik" are given daily at 2:30, 5:30 and 8:30 p. m. There have been no advances in price for this big feature.

The second big attraction of the current program is "The Romance Week" in which the entire family will be able to travel along unfamiliar trails into the land of adventure. The Merrimack Square Theatre is the Black circuit house in Lowell and the management has prepared in keeping with "Romance Week" a bill that will entertain you. The date will be announced tomorrow.

"ROMANCE WEEK"

Peace in Ireland, the disarmament conference, the increasing purchasing power of the dollar, the increase in advance orders in every line of manufacturing endeavor, the decrease in unemployment, the lifting of burdensome taxes in countries like Italy point to a return to normalcy and "good times." Throughout New England in the houses of the Black circuit, the "Romance Week" will be celebrated by a "good time" week which has been designated "romance week." Romance and the silver screen are one and inseparable. In the humdrum of everyday life will come "romance week" in which the entire family will be able to travel along unfamiliar trails into the land of adventure. The Merrimack Square Theatre is the Black circuit house in Lowell and the management has prepared in keeping with "Romance Week" a bill that will entertain you. The date will be announced tomorrow.

CROWN THEATRE

Wally Reel, one of the most popular stars of the screen, comes to the Crown theatre today in his Paramount picture, "The Love Special." This is a story which is splendidly pictured and it is filled with thrills and suspense from start to finish. Agnes Ayres leads a strong supporting company.

The story is a love story with romance, action and human interest is promised by "The Love Special," a new Seizick picture starring Elaine Hammerstein, which today begins a two-day engagement at the Crown theatre. "Laudaude or Kisses" was written by Thomas Edgewood and appeared first in story form in "Young's Magazine" and is said to be an ideal vehicle for the popular Seizick star.

HAIGHT THEATRE

Today is your last opportunity to see Thomas Jefferson in his father's old-time success, "Rip Van Winkle." The picture is one of the most quaint that has made its appearance at the Haight for many weeks. Another feature is "The Face of the World," also a comedy, "The Married Man," and the King of the Jungle. The big picture of tomorrow show will be William Desmond in "Fighting Mad."

OPERA HOUSE

Nothing better in the way of scenic artistry has ever been shown on any local stage in the past in Lowell. That is reflected this week at the Opera House in the presentation of Cosmo Hamilton's delightful comedy drama, "Scandal." Director Louis Aulry deserves special mention for their superior efforts. As for the presentation itself by Miss Marguerite Fields and her own company, too much cannot be said in the way of commendation. It is unquestionably one of the most satisfying of the better grades of comedy drama shown locally in years. Capacity audiences at all performances testify to this fact. Don't miss it. It's a real stage treat.

THE STRAND

"The Son of William," one of the most spectacular and human screen productions of the season, and "A Victim of the Situation," the feature contribution on the Strand bill for the first part of the week, will be shown for the last time today. If you haven't seen them be sure to avail yourself of the last opportunity today. It's a truly worth-while bill.

Peters, assisted by Irene Rich, Eddy, Almsworth and other screen favorites, will be one of the features for the week-end, starting with matinee on Thursday. This is a strong drama by Charles Kenyon, author of the famous American play, "Kindling." It is essentially the story of the regeneration of a former thief, but emphasizes the difficulties that his wife overcomes rather than the underworld activities of gangsters.

There's a big kick in "High Heels," the latest Gladys Walton feature. It's a snappy drama of a society flapper's awakening to the meaning of life and love. It has the proverbial pep and punch with Miss Walton at her best. See it.

REPAIRING LEVIATHAN

More than 20 architects and master mechanics are at work on the Leviathan preparing her for passenger service. The Germans refused to relinquish the ship's plans for less than $1,000,000, so the draftsmen are at work in the ship's famous winter garden making diagrams of wires, pipes, etc.

POSITIONS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

According to the report submitted yesterday to Commander Stephen C. Garrity by Adjutant Robert J. Rutledge, 161 men have been placed in permanent positions through the employment bureau of Lowell Post, American Legion, since its inception about two months ago. The total number of applications received at the bureau to date are approximately 1400, 25 per cent. calling for skilled trades, and 75 per cent. signifying their willingness to work at anything. Mr. Rutledge, who is director of the bureau, states in his report that the average number of applicants for work per day is 25 per cent. Thirty per cent. of the total applicants are married and have families, the report further shows, and 10 per cent. of the latter, the adjutant states, have received and are receiving the same treatment accorded to service men, no lines having been drawn. Besides this 161 permanent jobs obtained, the report states that more than 200 men have been given temporary employment in the public service departments of the city of Lowell during the recent emergencies occasioned by the stormy weather. The adjutant closes his report by saying that he does not note any appreciable decrease in the daily number of applicants.

The local police have been appealed to by Mrs. S. Ashworth of Box 21, the Pur, Manitoba, Canada, to assist her in locating a relative of hers by the name of Arthur Lee, who at one time lived in Lowell. The police superintendent asks that any knowledge of the man sought be turned over to him.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION TO PRESENT PLAY

The Lowell Teachers' Association will present "Phylax," as this year's theatrical offering. Last year the association presented "The Mikado" and the success of it led the members of the association to attempt a more difficult opera this year. Feb. 20 is the date decided upon.

The first rehearsal has been held and from the manner in which members are taking hold of the production, the affair will culminate in a fine show. P. O. O'Brien, assistant instructor of music in the public schools, will again direct the production.

The entire cast has not yet been picked but it is expected this phase of the work will be completed by the end of the week. Last season the cast was picked for the most part, from members of the association. This plan will be followed out this year as far as is possible. It is expected that a little outside help will be solicited. The chorus will be made up of recent graduates of the high school.

To date only one rehearsal has been held, but with less than six weeks to complete the work, it is planned to have at least three meetings a week, starting next week. Rehearsals are being held in the high school hall. The task of putting on an opera involves much more time than a dramatic offering, and for this reason Director O'Brien must hurry matters.

The place for the production is not definitely decided upon as yet, but it is believed the use of the Opera House can be secured for the performance. Last year a packed house greeted the performers and it is hoped an enthusiastic audience will witness this year's offering.

THIN, FLAT HAIR GROWS LONG, THICK AND ABUNDANT

"Dandruff" costs only 35 cents a bottle. One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and, in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. "Dandruff" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.—Adv.

Bomb Hurlled at Tram Car in Belfast

BELEFAST, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—A bomb was thrown at a tram car bearing 75 persons to their work in the Crumlin road district today. The quick action of the driver, who put on full speed when he heard a revolver shot, resulted in the missile going wide of the mark. The explosion splintered the car. A man and his wife living nearby, who went to the door of their house to learn the cause of the commotion, were shot dead by a volley of rifle fire which swept the street.

PLANS FOR ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

Plans for the annual high school play, "Penrod," to be given by the pupils of the high school under the direction of Miss Mary C. Joyce, instructor in vocal education, are going along smoothly. The play will be given in the Opera House on Jan. 30, both afternoon and evening.

Rehearsals are being held in the high school building on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and, according to reports, the play this year will be even better than those of past years. Last year the pupils presented "Happiness," the year before "The Girl and the Pigeon" and the year previous to that "Charley's Aunt." The proceeds each year are turned over to the High School Athletic association.

"Penrod" is a play in four acts, adapted for the stage by Edward E. Rose from Booth Tarkington's stories. These stories have been read by all classes of people in the past few years and are listed among the most popular pieces of fiction at the present time. It is based on the last series of stories in which Peared figures; the series in which his efforts as an amateur detective have been chronicled. Episodes from many of the earlier stories are also incorporated in the stage version. All the familiar characters people the play, including Sam Williams, the irresponsible; Herman and Verma, the colored brethren; George Hawset, that paragon of all virtues; Marjorie Jones, Penrod's sweetheart; the suave Mr. Herbert Hamilton Dade; the Rev. Mr. Kinrossing; Mr. and Mrs. Schofield; Margaret, Penrod's big sister; her 19-year-old sweetheart, Bob Williams, and Jarge, the hired man.

Must Apply For Tickets
Applications for tickets for either performance, enclosing the payment in full, will be received at the school office until the close of school on Tuesday, Jan. 24. Applications should be made on blanks, which may be obtained at the office, and should state clearly "Matinee or Evening" performance, location of seats desired, balcony, floor or box, number of seats and price.

There will be no war tax charge on the tickets. The tickets will be assigned to applicants impartially by lot. After all applications are filled, the remaining seats, if any, will be sold at the school office until the close of school on Friday, Jan. 27. Unsold tickets may be secured at the box office at the theatre.

Applications for seats must be filed with the understanding that when seats applied for are not available, the next best seats will be allotted. Also in case there are not enough

DISCUSSION OF NAVAL LIMITATION TREATY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. (By the Associated Press.)—Delegation heads of the five powers continued today their discussion of the naval limitation treaty to clear up remaining details of phrasing, while the full naval committee of the conference was called to meet later in the day to go over the completed sections of the pact. Agreement was reached by the delegation heads yesterday on all articles of the treaty draft except for details of the Pacific fortifications agreement, upon which a tentative settlement was reached, subject to approval by the Japanese government. This was announced today while they went to work on the several annexes attached to the treaty and also the final drafting of several of its articles.

The question arising under the fortifications articles, which provides for settlement on a status quo basis, was understood to relate to the status of certain group south of the principal Japanese group, and whether these should be included in the area in which no further fortifications can be erected. The Japanese delegates were confident, however, that Tokyo would approve promptly the finalization tentatively agreed to by them in the American draft of the article.

Another question still awaiting final decision today was whether the submarine and poison gas resolutions adopted by the five powers would be included in the naval treaty or made the subject of a separate agreement. On this a growing inclination was understood to have been revealed at the meeting of the "big five" to adopt the latter course on the ground that the resolutions covering these questions did not properly belong in the same instrument with the provisions for tonnage limitation.

Meanwhile the shunting negotiations held out new promise of an agreement in the decision of the Japanese and Chinese delegates to resume their separate conversations.

POSTPONE WORK ON CENTRAL BRIDGE

The cement work on Central bridge will not be completed until next spring, or until the weather becomes such as to allow the contractors to pour the railing and fence on the up-stream side of the structure. Permission to postpone the completion of the job until such a time has been granted the Engineering Service and Construction Co. by the board of public service and information, which effect has been given to Trull, Weir & O'Donoghue, attorneys for the construction company.

In the meanwhile arrangements are being made by the city engineer's office to erect storm guards on the bridge and these will be in place to day.

The guards will be temporarily attached to the super-structure of the bridge inasmuch as the up-stream sidewalk has not been opened. A temporary foot path also will be placed on that side of the bridge.

The public service board will meet again tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock at which time a conference will be held with the board of health for the purpose of determining the proportionate share of expense to be borne by the health department and street department for the maintenance of the stables now being used by both departments in Broadway.

$75,000,000 For New Federal Roads

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is considering a tentative draft of rules for administration of the federal highway act under which $75,000,000 is made available for construction of federal aid roads, it was announced today. In formulating these rules, the department is consulting the state highway officials, who will have much to do with carrying out the purposes of the act, as represented by the executive committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials. Each state highway department has been requested to submit to the department a tentative map showing routes proposed for primary and secondary systems of roads to be constructed under the act.

Buys Interest From Soviet Government

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—The Standard Oil Co., of California has purchased a quarter interest in the Washington A. Vanderbilt syndicate, which more than a year ago, reported the acquisition of vast concessions in the Kamchatka peninsula, in Siberia, from the Russia soviet government, according to a story the Los Angeles Times published today.

Cucumber Odor Clings to Water

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—New Yorkers addicted to drinking water were still complaining today of a cucumber odor clinging to the fluid. Water department officials who have traced the peculiar taste to the synura, a microscopic organism which imparts an oily flavor to water, report that they have killed the "bug" which has appeared in large numbers in the Kensico reservoir, but explain that they have not yet been able satisfactorily to remove the oil which it contains. Authorities are agreed, however, that it is not injurious to health.

Big Troop Movement in China

PERIN, Jan. 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government today confirmed reports that Gov. Wu Peifu, inspector-general of Hunan and Hubei, was moving large bodies of troops north from Hubei, and at the same time issuing violent denunciations of the government's supposed pro-Japanese policy, declared to be compromising China's interests at the Washington conference. Premier Liang Shih-Yi issued a statement this afternoon denying Gen. Wu Peifu's accusations.

Price of Hard Coal Reduced in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 31.—A reduction of 50 cents a ton in the retail price of hard coal was announced today by one of the larger companies here. Officials of the company, who said the cut was due to lower water freight rates and to the removal of the war tax on freight bills, said also that business had been "unusually slow" this winter. They could not recall any other occasion when they had reduced the price of domestic sizes before April 1. The new prices are: Furnace and egg, $14.75; stove and chestnut $15.

STRIKE IN TRANSVAAL GOLD AND COAL MINES

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 31.—An unexpected outbreak for settlement of the strike in the Transvaal gold and coal mines was made today by the Miners' federation after the arrival of Premier Smuts. Acting upon the miners' suggestion, the president called a joint meeting of the employers and men, at which the federation submitted as a basis for discussion the withdrawal of all notices under the stipulation that wages be not further reduced until the margin between the actual increase in cost of living and the actual increase had disappeared.

Beginning this afternoon the police will keep a sharp watch for anarchists who have so far failed to comply with the state motor regulations requiring them to replace their number plates of the year just closed with the 1922 registration numbers. The police chief believes plenty of time has been allowed them to obtain their new plates from the highway commission and the time has early when police intervention should be made.

PLAN SPEEDY TRIAL

Boddy, Slayer of Detectives, on Way to New York—Mother Blames War for Act

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Father Boddy, self-confessed slayer of two New York detectives, was expected to arrive here today from Philadelphia, where he was captured on Monday. His trial will begin almost immediately, it was asserted today.

While the legal machinery for bringing Boddy into court was being speeded up there was in Montclair, N. J., an aged woman who had been caught up by the whirlwind of fury that caused Boddy to strike down the two detectives.

She was Boddy's mother. War, she declared, had cheapened human life to her boy. "You can't take boys and learn 'em how to kill and then expect them to know it ain't right another time," she repeated.

"I'm sorry they ketches my boy, but I'm sorry he done what he did, I raised him right, and I sent him to school. Then he goes to war. That's where he learned about shootin'."

"My old heart bleeds for the families of them detectives. There will be hard nights for me and I won't sleep much."

BOYS FOUND SLEEPING IN TOOL SHED

Two 12-year-old boys, who gave their names to the police as Arthur Barchey, of Somerville and Joseph Farrell, of Newton, reported escaped from the Middlesex County training school last night, were found sleeping in a tool shed of the public works department in Pine street by city laborers when they reported for work this morning.

The police were called and the boys, after getting warmed up and receiving something to eat at the station, were returned to the school in charge of officers from that institution who were notified of the apprehension. The boys fled from the school and sought refuge in this small shed used for housing tools being used in street repair work in the Highland district and therein passed the cold night. They told the police they had nothing to eat since yesterday afternoon and appeared hungry and cold.

One of the boys, evidently made his getaway without his cap, and to protect his head from the cold made an "improvised" hat of the bottom of a wicker basket he found on his way from the institution.

BIG LAWRENCE MILL FELL 62 YEARS AGO

LAWRENCE, Jan. 31.—The city's greatest calamity—the fall of the Pemberton mill—occurred 62 years ago yesterday. There are but few of the survivors still living.

A total of 88 persons, were killed, 275 hurt, 116 of them seriously. The mill fell at 4:55 p. m., carrying down with it 670 men, women and children. Five hours afterwards the ruins took fire from a lantern, demolished in the hands of a workman through a chance blow of another rescuer.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI ANNIVERSARY

The tenth anniversary of the founding of St. Joseph's college alumni will be observed with a church service, reception and banquet on Sunday, Feb. 12. The service will be held at St. Joseph's church in connection with the regular parish mass and the pastor will be requested to have clergymen members of the alumni affiliate. The sermon will also be delivered by a member of the organization.

The reception and banquet will be held in the college hall in Northbrook at 10 o'clock and it is expected that at least 600 members will be in attendance. Prominent speakers will address the gathering during the post-prandial exercises and an entertainment program will be given.

Arranged for the celebration was taken at a meeting of all the former officers of the alumni and the members of the organization held last evening in the college hall with President Joseph Montminy in the chair. In the course of the meeting committees were appointed to make arrangements for the event and it was voted to hold another general meeting next Thursday evening in the college hall at which time there will be a lecture by a local speaker, entertainment numbers will be given and refreshments will be served.

The committees appointed at last evening's meeting are as follows: Music—Rev. Guillaume Quillette, O.M.I., Arthur St. Hilaire, Leo Beauchamp and Napoleon Michel. Banquet—J. A. N. Chretien, Normis.

Report of Year's Activities Read at Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce

A detailed report of the year's activities was the chief business item on the agenda of the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce last night when that body convened in the chamber rooms for its annual meeting. President Harry L. Chalfoux was in the chair.

Of the important things to come up at the meeting were the adoption of amendments to the by-laws which will provide that in the future the annual meeting shall be held on the second Tuesday of February instead of January, thus making the annual session conform to the close of the fiscal year which will be the last day of January instead of December.

Routine matters were soon disposed of and the report of Secretary George P. Wells was presented. The report follows:

Secretary's Report

It is an unfortunate condition at present existing in this organization which provides that the annual meeting should be held two or three weeks prior to the end of the organization year. Our year ends Jan. 31st, but our annual meeting is held the second Tuesday in January. It is impossible therefore for your secretary to have prepared and printed the annual report for a year which has not yet ended; neither can we present to you a financial report for the entire year. This has been a decided disadvantage and in the future the annual report will be printed and ready for the annual meeting.

This report will for this reason be largely a summary of a few of the more important activities and will not go into much detail, leaving that to the final report which will be issued about February 1.

Membership

The membership at the close of the campaign in 1920 was 1147, but losses by death, changes in business and through some plural memberships which were signed for one year only reduced the total at the close of the first year to 1065. During the second year we have added 223 new members which would make a total of 1288. I am not able to give a complete statement of our total losses for the year, but there have been 10 lost by death, 18 who have left the city or gone out of business; eight lost by changes and one whose resignation has been accepted, making a total of 37. In addition there are some members who, due to the unsatisfactory business conditions, have asked to be relieved of paying their dues, but upon which no action has yet been taken. I am safe in saying, however, that our membership at the close of the second year will be more than at the close of the campaign in January, 1920, and considering the business conditions, I feel that this is rather remarkable.

Finance

Our financial condition is equally gratifying, although I am able to present a report for only 10 months ending Nov. 30. This shows that the organization has kept within its budget, paid last year's deficit amounting to $3637.57.

Meetings

The board of directors has held 25 meetings with a total attendance of 292; 63 committee meetings have been

Charles Still Expects to Return to Hungary

BUDAPEST, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—"I regard Hungary as my fatherland. I am also convinced that I will return to Hungary." Former Emperor Charles is quoted as making this declaration to the correspondent of a Budapest newspaper who interviewed him at Funchal, Madeira, where he is in exile. "I have the highest esteem for the loyalty of Count Andrássy, Count Apponyi and Count Sigray and whatever happens, I do not doubt the loyalty of the Hungarian nation," added Charles.

Increase in Britain's Foreign Trade

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Great Britain's foreign trade decreased in 1921 from that of 1920, the annual board of trade returns show. Imports were valued at 1,086,000,000 pounds sterling, compared with 1,932,000,000 in 1920. Exports totalled £783,000,000 compared with £1,334,000,000 in 1920.

Collected $63,500 in Liquor Fines

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 11.—Fines collected for violation of the liquor laws, imposed after trial, in the Hartford city court during 1921, reached a total of $63,500, according to figures announced today. This revenue goes into the city treasury.

held with an attendance of 513; 105 other meetings have been held at the chamber of commerce office, making a total of 195 meetings with a total attendance of 2645. In addition to these committee workers 375 members gave their services during the initiative campaign last summer. Out of a total membership nearly 60 per cent. have served the organization in some manner during the year and this is a remarkable example of service to the community.

Finance and Membership Meetings

Only two membership meetings have been held. This has been due to the difficulty of finding a place where luncheons could be held. Membership meetings are necessary and we propose to hold at least monthly meetings during the coming year if a suitable place can be secured.

The program of work for 1921 adopted by the board of directors early in the year provided for four general lines of activity—municipal affairs, trade development, transportation and special efforts.

City Budget

The first plank, municipal affairs, owing to existing conditions, received a major portion of attention during the year. In February a committee was appointed to meet with the municipal council and urge a reduction in the proposed city budget. Their efforts occupied nearly two weeks of constant work. The proposed budget presented to the council called for appropriations amounting to $438,702. After our committee had made its protest against many of the increases a reduction was made of $233,231, and later, after additional hearings, a further reduction was made of $50,000, making a total reduction of $333,231 in the final tax rate. Just how much of this reduction can be credited to the work of the committee no one can tell, but I believe it is generally admitted that if this committee had not protested very little if any reduction would have been made.

Streets

The street problem was the activity that next received attention. A survey of the streets made in 1920, together with recommendations, was presented to the municipal council late in 1920 and was referred to the street commissioner. A second recommendation was made to the council and laid on the table. The street committee then secured Walter C. Heston to come to Lowell and confer with the committee. Following a report made by Mr. Heston a conference was held between the directors and the street commissioner, following which another recommendation was made to the council that City Street street be paved by contract. This received the same consideration as the previous recommendations, being laid on the table.

A referendum was at once taken of the membership, asking their approval of the presentation of an initiative petition to the city council which would provide that all paving of streets be done by contract. This referendum resulted in a vote of 836 in favor and 19 against. The initiative petition was started, and 579 signatures were secured by 475 members. The petition was presented to the council, voted down, and a special election held on August 9, when the petition was defeated by 645 votes. Over 19,000 votes were cast, at that time the largest number of votes ever cast in a city election here.

The result was an increased interest throughout the city in civic affairs; increased interest in the chamber of commerce; the recognition of the chamber of commerce as a factor in municipal affairs; not as a political organization but as an organization which demands a more business-like administration of city affairs.

Fire Protection Committee

Through the activities of this committee a survey of the fire hazards has been made by the national board of underwriters which will soon be made public. It may be possible after this report is received that, with certain needed changes put into effect, a reduction may be made in insurance rates. The recommendation of this committee made in 1920 that a new fire house be built in the Highlands and that additional water mains be laid in the Highlands have both been carried out during the year. The chamber of commerce also co-operated with the city in the observance of fire prevention week.

Traffic Regulation

Realizing that the increased use of automobiles demanded better traffic regulation in the city a committee was appointed which made a study of this problem. This committee recommended to the mayor the adoption of new traffic ordinance which would eliminate the parking of automobiles where it would interfere with traffic. The ordinance was put in effect late in the year and over 200 parking signs were erected giving clear directions to how long and where automobiles could be parked. There are still needed while traffic lines on the streets at crossings and congested points and also some additional parking places near the centre of the city.

Industrial Committee

This committee can report five new industries secured through its activities which will employ approximately 500 hands. These are Conant Hough-ton & Co., manufacturers of narrow fabric; Stern Bros., manufacturers of men's caps; Box Board Products Inc., manufacturers of paper boxes; Peabody Shoe Co., manufacturers of shoes; C. V. Watson Co., manufacturers of shoes.

In addition to these several other industries have located or expanded in Lowell which have received assistance and co-operation of the chamber of commerce. Among these being the Park Warehouse Co. and the Lowell Public Warehouse Co.

Retail Merchants' Affairs

A mercantile committee was appointed early in the year and through this committee two "dollar days" were conducted successfully, one on February 12 and one on August 22. In March a price survey and comparison of prices here with those of other cities was carried out with productive results and considerable satisfaction for Lowell merchants. Suburban day has been conducted each month, the first of these days being April 8. On May 13 C. W. Sully of the National Cash Register Co. gave an address to

Mass. Boys to Attend Summer Camp

ORONO, Me., Jan. 11.—The second summer camp of the University of Maine regiment, Reserve Officers' Training Corps, will be held at Camp Andrews, Newport, Me., four days beginning May 4. Major Luther R. James, professor of military science and tactics, announced today. This involves approximately 600 boys from all the counties of Maine, also of the states of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Vermont, New York and New Jersey. Camp Andrews was named in honor of Harold T. Andrews of Portland, the first Maine boy and University of Maine student, to lose his life in the world war.

Depression in Coal Trade Brings Privation

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—Depression in the local coal trade has brought privation to miners in many places in the Pittsburgh bituminous district, according to officials of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America. In a statement today, Robert R. Gibbons, president of the district union, said that of approximately 45,000 miners in the region, at a rough estimate only 28,000 had worked. Many of these miners, he said, have worked for the past year only a day or two a week, and often only a half day a week. Their earnings in these cases, Gibbons said, would not enable them to meet the bare necessities of life.

Harvey Recovers, Attends Council

CANNES, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, attended today's session of the allied supreme council having almost completely recovered from the shock he suffered in an automobile accident on Monday. Members of the council heartily congratulated him on his escape from serious injury.

French Cabinet Discusses Negotiations

PARIS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—A cabinet council presided over by President Millerand, met at the Elysee palace today, and again discussed the negotiations at Cannes, concerning which Premier Briand had telegraphed a request for instructions and advice. The meeting lasted nearly three hours and the results of the deliberations were transmitted to the premier at Cannes. It is understood that the proposed Anglo-French defensive agreement was the main object under consideration.

The members on "Getting the Most Out of Business." Observance was secured for the law governing the hours of auctioneers and a film on early Christmas shopping was shown in the moving picture theatres. Soliciting projects were investigated and several were started. Program advertising was eliminated.

Education and Recreation

The committee on this subject visited a new addition to the city, the new work in which the Americanization work was done there through the public school department. Local Americanization was continued through co-operation with the North American Civic League for Immigrants. This organization had the services of a Greek and a Polish supervisor who organized classes in the public schools, assisted in securing naturalization papers and prepared foreigners for naturalization. Two evening street playgrounds were conducted under competent supervision and over 4,000 children attended. The purchase of Washington park by the city was advocated and this purchase was ultimately made. The purchase of Spaulding park by the city was recommended provided it be at not more than the assessed value.

Co-operation of Newspapers

A deep sense of appreciation and gratitude is expressed to the local newspapers and their representatives for the splendid co-operation and assistance which they have given the organization. I doubt if any city in Great England has received the amount of publicity that has been so generously given this organization. It is largely through the local newspapers that our activities are brought before the community as a whole and without their support it would be impossible for an organization like ours to exist.

Conclusion

The work of the organization has been guided and directed by your board of directors who have given freely of their time and experience for the improvement of our city. Meeting.

LIEN ON THE AUTOMOBILE WOULD NOT TAKE

Legislature to Consider New Bill Relative to Injuries by Automobile

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Jan. 11.—A bill permitting a person injured by an automobile driven by another to have a lien on the automobile, for the satisfaction of any judgment he may recover against the owner, is recommended for the consideration of the legislature in a report filed today by the special insurance commission.

This commission was created last June, and was directed to advise the legislature with respect to several insurance problems. It consists of Clarence W. Hobbs of Worcester, commissioner of insurance in this state; Frederic C. Nichols of Fitchburg, and John E. Gilman of Weymouth. The report states that the number of persons killed in accidents in which automobiles were involved increased steadily until 1920, when a considerable reduction was noted. The non-fatal injuries also increased until 1921, when there was a remarkable drop as compared with the preceding year. It points out, however, that the percentage of injuries to motor vehicles operated has steadily declined since 1915, and in 1921, although the number of fatal accidents was much larger than in 1920, this increase was not equal to the increase in motor vehicle registrations.

Three schemes for indemnifying those injured in automobile accidents have been suggested, the commission says. One of these would compel each owner of a motor vehicle to carry insurance, or to furnish a bond, for the protection of any one who might be injured. This the commission declines to recommend, asserting that because of losses on this class of business the insurance companies are beginning to draw the lines a little closer with respect to those to whom they will sell insurance, and further that compulsory insurance might have the effect of increasing accidents. "It must be borne in mind," the report says, "that many persons who do not at present insure their cars belong to the irresponsible class, and a class of persons, irresponsible financially is apt to be careless of the rights of others." There is just reason, it says, for apprehension that such persons, if compelled to insure, might feel that they are protected, and given the public would warrant less restraint in their acts as operators.

The second scheme, suggested is that the state establish a system of benefits similar to that now provided under the workmen's compensation law. The commission reports that such a system, if operated on a scale of benefits affording adequate indemnity to injured persons, would probably be more expensive than liability insurance, and at the same time would subject the state to losses not met by payments.

The commission therefore recommends legislation providing that any person thus injured shall have a lien on the motor vehicle for the satisfaction of his claim. It is copied from the maritime law. A bill presented provided that such lien must be claimed within fourteen days after the injury. It is to have precedence over all property rights in the automobile. With reference to permitting mutual insurance companies to issue policies without provision for assessments upon the policyholder, the commission reports that the proposed change is not necessary in the sense that the companies cannot get along without it, but on the other hand there is nothing objectionable in it, provided each company has established a proper surplus for the protection of its policyholders.

The commission informs the general court that the issue involved is purely one of public policy, which the general court alone can determine. It therefore makes no recommendation, but submits a bill which would permit the issuance of non-assessable policies with a margin of safety adequate for the protection of policyholders, should the general court decide that such a change from existing law is advisable.

Other recommendations of the commission are:

That mutual companies be permitted to write all classes of insurance except life insurance. The commission states that the latter system makes the cost of starting a new company well-nigh prohibitive, and its retention, therefore, has the effect of securing a practical monopoly to the established companies. The bill recommended by the commission is substantially the New Jersey law.

That insurance companies be permitted, under proper regulations to invest in public funds and municipal securities of the Dominion of Canada and of foreign nations in which they are authorized to transact business; in railroad equipment trust notes; in bonds of telephone and light and power companies; in bankers' acceptances; in farm loan bonds; and in bonds secured by the deposit of securities in which they are permitted to invest.

That it is inadvisable to enact legislation providing that companies financing the sale of automobiles on credit shall not be permitted to place in a company of their own choosing the insurance on such automobiles. The commission points out that in cases of this kind the legal title to the automobile remains in the financing company which, it says, clearly has the right to protect its interest with insurance.

THEATRE GRANTED TEMPORARY LICENSE

The Merrimack Square theatre was granted another temporary license, this time for two weeks, by the license commission at its meeting last evening. Owing to illness, Chairman Hays presided. The commission granted the Merrimack Square theatre, a temporary license valid until January 19, yesterday being the date of expiration. It seems that there are still some things dealing with the petition for the license, which was objected to by the legal title to the theatre, the New Jewel theatre, that have not been cleared up to the satisfaction of the board.

It is claimed that the rule is the outcome of certain episodes during the season of 1921, that aroused much comment in tennis circles.

MRS. COSTELLO SUFFERED SO MUCH LIFE HELD LITTLE HOPE FOR HER—NOW WELL

"Positively, I wouldn't take a million dollars for the good Tansie has done me," declared Mrs. Rose Costello, 222 Carlton st., Providence, R. I. "I am now 62 years of age, but judging from the way I feel since taking Tansie, I am only about 40. I feel that there is something unusual about a medicine that will make a person of my age gain 12 pounds in weight. That's just what Tansie has done for me, and more, too, for since taking it I eat better, sleep better and feel better than I have in years. Everything is quite different with me now to what it was for the past four years. My appetite was so poor I went to the table more from habit than I did because I wanted to eat and nothing tasted right. I just tossed and tumbled most of my nights, and it seemed that there was a good sleep for me. I lost over 20 pounds in weight, and looked so thin, pale and weak my friends were worried about me. I felt so tired all the time and was going down so rapidly that I thought I was doomed to go from bad to worse. Life held no hope or charm for me, and I sometimes felt that the sooner it was over the better for me."

"Well, it was certainly the luckiest day of my life when I got Tansie. It has built me up until I feel like a different person. My appetite is simply splendid and my food nourishes me, for I feel strong and full of life. In fact, I feel just fine in every way, and I wouldn't think of being without Tansie. No other medicine can compare with Tansie and Tansie Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a specialist. Tansie is represented by Wright Drug Co., 1111 Main st., A. D. Falls, Chelmsford, Mass.; Shaw's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass.; and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

WALKER-ROGERS POST

Meeting of Veterans of Foreign Wars—Haverhill Post Commander, Guest

Walker-Rogers Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held an interesting meeting in Memorial hall last evening. Commander George Crowell presided. A guest of the meeting was Commander William Stone of Haverhill post, who gave an address. The members voted to hold a public installation of officers at the next meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 24, a special committee being chosen to make arrangements. The post also plans to form a ladies auxiliary and the following committee was picked to start work on this project: Carroll Phares, Maj. Anthony Mitten, Frank Hotchkiss and Frank E. Hart. Plans for the observance of the services that day was appointed, consisting of Robert A. Smith, David S. O'Connell, Carroll Phares, Maj. Anthony Mitten and Frank E. Hart.

POSTAL SUB-STATION FOR CENTRALVILLE

Plans for a postal sub-station in Centralville received new impetus at a meeting of the Centralville Improvement association last evening, when it was announced that as a result of a request sent to Congressman John Jacob Rogers some time ago, an investigation is now being conducted by officials of the postoffice department. The association believes that there is enough postal business in that section of Lowell to warrant the establishment of a postal station there, and Congressman Rogers' evident desire to find a solution to the problem aroused much enthusiasm last evening.

Plans for the paying of Lakeview awards came up again for discussion last evening. The work is to come now under the board of public service and the improvement committee of the association. Dr. Michael A. Tighe, chairman, was instructed to get in touch with the board members as soon as possible to have the Lakeview project added to this year's street improvement plans.

Centralville citizens are also desirous of securing a skating rink in that part of the city. There are two tracts of land available, one, the Greenhalge school yard, and another on Dunstons avenue. Mayor Brown is a member of the association.

The next meeting will be held on the second Tuesday in February and will be open to the public. There will be a noted speaker and a program of musical entertainment.

REVISED PRICES ON THE CADILLAC

Geo. R. Dana & Son inform the writer that while the revised prices on the Cadillac cars, Detroit show a reduction of $200 to $500, dependent upon the model, the prices for the Cadillac show an even greater reduction from former prices, while today the car is offered the purchaser in the most complete touring form of any car of which Mr. Dana has information. In fact there seems to be no necessity for the additional expenditure of one penny by an owner to fit the car for an across-the-continent trip.

The salesroom of Geo. R. Dana & Son is now not with both open and enclosed models and the inspection by admirers of fine motor cars is earnestly solicited and this invitation is intended to reach everybody in Lowell. In an interview, Dana, Sr., became reminiscent and told of his early engagement in the motor car business, which was at a time when the bare chassis and body only were sold the customer and then ensued a lot of figuring and discussion regarding prices and kind of top, windshield, speedometer, clock, lamps, horn, spare tire carrier, etc., etc., which often led to unpleasantness, as these necessities often figured up to approximately 25 per cent additional to the price which the customer had fixed in his mind would be his only expenditure.

Now the purchaser may receive a Cadillac car fitted for a trip of thousands of miles and gasoline and oil supply may be his only thought.

THE TRIP THROUGH THE TUBE

Mr. Bitt leaves the table, enters the mouth, hurries past the teeth and begins the tortuous journey through the stomach, intestines and alimentary tract, a distance of 30 feet over the route of the human food tube. Ordinarily this should require about ten (10) hours in transit. If it were not for a "block on the line" commonly called Constipation.

Congestion in the digestive organs obstructs the free passage of waste matter and cripples the natural functions. When you feel bloated and heavy, with dull pains in the head, no spirit, no appetite, no energy—it is time to do something!

Keep the food tube clear and clean by flushing the kidneys and bowels with the well known laxative preparation which is used and endorsed by 28,000 practicing physicians and pharmacists—A. D. S. Laxative Salts. A saline laxative and uric acid solvent which not only corrects by easy action but results in permanent relief. For sale by Itay E. Webster, 401 Bridge st.—Adv.

Theatregoers Hiss American Names

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Much theatregoers are still touchy on the subject of America, it appears from an incident just reported here. The Neue Berliner Zeitung tells how an audience in the Bavarian capital fairly raised the roof in objecting to the American background and American names being used in a new theatrical production. They booed and hissed and stamped and finally the performance was brought to a stop. The versatile producer readily laid his wreaths in the Caucasus. The name of one character was changed from "Smith" to "Smitzki" and that of "Gladys Chicago, Dollar Princess" to "Marsha Petrograd, Millionaire's daughter." The metamorphosed play was a success.

The money was spent for campaign literature and advertising. The association supported in the city election campaign John R. Murphy, defeated candidate for mayor and three candidates for the city council, of whom only one was elected. The statement showed contributions aggregating $24,195.05.

The only man aboard escaped. The Marshall, valued at about $7000, was owned in New York.

For Your Own Good Please Read Them

Youngstown, Ohio.—"Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night I could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every month and was just nearly all in. Finally my husband said to me one day, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?' and I said, 'I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.' So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and the neighbors asked me what I was doing and said, 'Surely I must be doing you good all right.' I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH REYNOLDS, 403 N. You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN POSTAGE RATES

A change in postage rates has been made which will be of interest to people who send mail to certain foreign countries. Attention is invited to the fact that the special rate of postage of one cent for each four ounces for newspapers and publications for foreign countries applies only to publications which are entered as second class matter at post offices and to copies of such publications which are separately wrapped with postage paid by stamps affixed.

This special rate does not affect the rate of one cent for each two ounces applicable to printed matter in general. Therefore, publications which are not entered as second class matter at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

As the domestic rates of postage apply to second class matter for Bolivia, Canada, Columbia, Cuba, Dominican republic, Honduras republic, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, El Salvador and Shanghai.

Publications may be mailed to these countries by the public at the rate of one cent for each four ounces and by publishers and news agents at the second class pound rate of postage. It has been announced that on and after Jan. 1, 1922 the domestic postage rate of 2 cents an ounce or fraction thereof will apply to letters for Argentina, Brazil, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Jamaica and Martinique.

Under the option granted by Article 8 of the Madrid convention, newspapers and publications separately wrapped, will be accepted for mailing to foreign countries, at the postage rate of 1 cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, this rate being provided for with the express condition that a full rate will be charged upon each newspaper or publication, even though several copies are included under the same wrapper or cover. Accordingly senders are requested to mail each newspaper or publication under a separate wrapper or cover.

THE AFFAIRS OF JANE

Some Refreshing Views on The Movies by Harry Carey

NICE LITTLE FAMILY GROUP—DOESN'T LOOK LIKE A MOVIE FAMILY, DOES IT? BUT IT'S HARRY CAREY, MRS. CAREY AND "DOBIE," AND THEY LOOK JUST AS PLAIN AND UNAPPROPRIATE AS THIS IN THE HOTEL ASTOR, NEW YORK

By JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Meeting Harry Carey is as refreshing as meeting a country cousin and listening to a discussion of the things that come up out of the soil.

Carey lives on a 17,000-acre ranch in California the year around and his views on the movies are as refreshing as his views on ranching.

"I'm in the movies for what money I can get out of them," Carey told me. "That's the difference between him and most of the film players I have met—he admits 'art for money's sake' is his creed."

He doesn't want to do Shakespeare or Shaw for the screen and he realizes that the public only wants him as a cowboy actor.

Carey is not under contract at present. That gives him some latitude in his remarks. However, he makes it clear that his remarks are generalities and do not apply specifically to any one concern. Here are some of the things he says:

"When you go out on location for a week or two there's no telling who will be a new star when you return. Some girl who played as an extra the week before is billed as the star of a new picture and thousands of dollars are spent to advertise her. She flares across the horizon and in a short time is forgotten."

"When youicker for a contract the first question a producer asks you is how much it will cost you to make a picture like a 'Wally Reid' or a 'Fairbanks' or a 'Chaplin' and if you tell them the truth, that you can't do that kind of a picture, you don't get the contract. The producer, like everyone else in the business, is out for the money."

"Therefore few leaders in the industry. You can count them on one hand. The rest are followers. They remind me of the sheep on my ranch. When Fairbanks made 'The Three Musketeers' he started an epidemic of musketeers. The ordinary producer sits back and watches the leaders to see what they are doing and what pictures make money."

"Immense quantities of money. The screen is still flooded with imitations of it. 'Over the Hill' made money for Fox. Others are trying to get rich with pictures patterned after it. The main trouble with the picture industry today is this business of imitating. It's done for money. Art is a slight consideration with most producers. Yet a picture that lacks art doesn't make money. The fellows who are getting the most out of the business are the ones who are creating, who are doing something new. Griffith is the best example.

STRONGEST WOMAN Frau Swandina has all of Germany keeping at her feet of strength. She lifts a field gun and balances it upon her shoulder. And she holds a man aloft like a pound dumbbell. Married? Who'd dare!

"Yes, the two black marks against the industry are imitation of financial successes and the exploitation of players of unknown or little merit as stars."

Carey discussed the present movement within the motion picture industry to reform the business. "The movies need reform—everyone in the industry admits that," he said. "But the place to start reforming is not with the office boys. A few of them have been fired. The changes must be made nearer the top of the industry."

The Carey Family
If Carey impresses one as a ranchman more than an actor, Mrs. Carey impresses one more as a ranchman's wife than an actor's wife. And here's the joke to that—New York City is Carey's home and Mrs. Carey was an actress and of a stage family.

The other member of this ranching-acting family is "Dobie," who entered the household seven months ago without a shirt to his back, but with a shock of brick-red hair. Hence his dad calls him "Dobie."

And here's another joke about Carey. The fans won't accept him as anything but a cowboy, or, at least, producers won't let him play anything but cowboy pictures. He wants to do

Does your mother sometimes wish there never was another dish in the world to wash? And Dad gets disgusted too with the factory—the mill—the office or the store—and sis with studying—and brother thinks the town's no good.

There's nothing wrong but you need a change. Make up a party for

Lungs Sore From Coughing

ALLEN'S LUNG HEALER

Mr. Alfred Hussion of 17 Cedar St., Lowell, Has Found This Remedy a Friend in Need

Mr. H. J. Allen:
Dear Sir—I have used Allen's Lung Healer a number of years and as I have always found it very effective in all kinds of coughs and colds, especially on the lungs, I want to tell you that I would not be without it in the house. It was recommended to me at a time when I was suffering from a deep-seated cold on the lungs which had run me down badly. At times I was unable to work because of the distress in my lungs from coughing. The first bottle really relieved me and the second cured me entirely so that I felt like a different man. I consider it a most remarkable and reliable lung and cough medicine. Gratefully yours,
ALFRED HUSSON,
17 Cedar St., Lowell.

UNCLE DUDLEY IN ALASKA

Local Rotarians Hear Story of Life and Travel in Arctic Circle

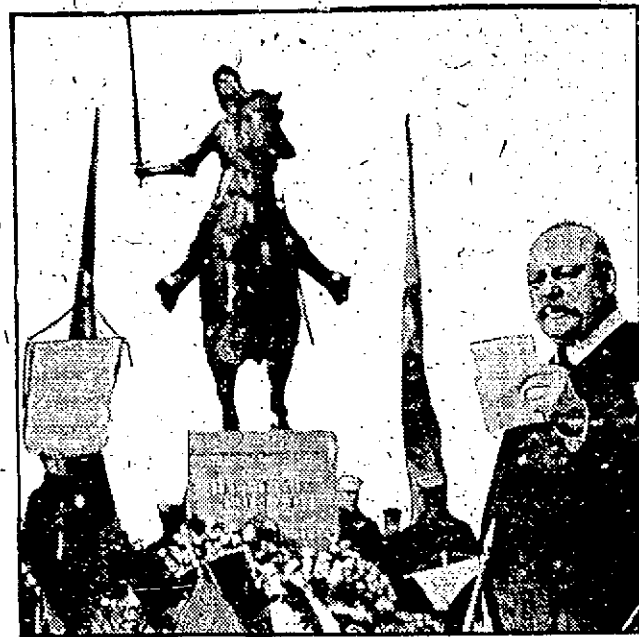

How to repair a badly overworked and hysterical driver by throwing away nine parts, tying up a few small coils, with a sour-dough bit of twine and scooting deer grease into the valve chambers in order to keep out mud and water, was explained in detail yesterday to members of the Rotary club after their weekly turkey dinner at the Boys' club.

A little filer in Alaskan placer mine stocks following an 80-mile horseback ride through rivers of water and mud and over trails that were trails in name only, also a gay old battle with "gold bug" mosquitoes at the famous million dollar Camp McKinley just before he dug up $14 worth of real gold from a "crick" mine, were all explained in true Dudley L. Page fashion this afternoon by "Uncle Dudley" himself.

The Lowell restaurant got a splendid greeting when he arose to describe his happy-go-lucky trip to the northern territory at the age of about 75. The journey was taken in 1920. It included a long horseback ride through Alaskan territory, a visit to several of nature's wonders, trips to Juneau and Seward and the Klondike, mining lands, and a little side jaunt that took in an Angora goat ranch run in connection with a defunct gold-miner's vegetable patch.

Previous to the Page address and after the weekly dinner, reports were read from the club membership committee. Today's attendance was about the average. Invitations were received from several New England clubs who want Lowell Rotarians to visit them before spring comes. A fine stereopticon lecture is scheduled for the evening on Tuesday, Jan. 24, all members being requested to report for dinner promptly at 12 m.

Mr. Page opened his snappy talk this afternoon by calling upon Harry Gilmore Pollard of the A. G. Pollard Co. to explain all about the latest trip to North Pole regions, but Mr. Pollard, ingenuously relented, put the iron into this little Page idea by declaring that he has been about as far from Alaska in his life time as Arlington in from Boston, or something of that sort. Mr. Pollard told a good story or two and got the boys ready for the Page address, which came afterward.

EXTRA PAY FOR OVERTIME AND 8 HOURS SOUGHT

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Extra pay for overtime work and the eight hour day were the principal points sought by railroad clerks in controversies over the rules of the Clerks' National Agreement which were up for consideration by the United States Railroad Labor board today. The board expected to complete its draft of new rules within two weeks and promulgation of a new set of rules to replace the agreement made under federal control, is looked for by Feb. 1.

Eight rules of the old agreement affect the clerks' pay and these rules have been the subject of the greatest disagreement in negotiations during the last few months. Like the national agreements of other groups of railroad employees, the clerks' agreement was ordered replaced by new rules which the board directed the employees and the carriers to draw up by agreement. The disagreements resulting from such negotiations were referred to the board.

Forty-four roads submitted agreements on rule 37, calling for time and one-half pay after eight hours' work, which the clerks wish continued. Eight roads have agreed to pay their clerks to rest previous time after eight hours, but other carriers are asking no extra pay for the ninth hour, pro-rata for the 10th, and time and one-half only after 10 hours. The large majority of carriers desire to continue the one-half pay for Sunday and holiday work, also, except after 10 hours.

Monthly and weekly basis of pay are sought by about two-thirds of the roads involved as opposed to a daily rate basis which the employees ask to be continued.

The eight hour day, provided by rule 18, has been agreed to by 25 carriers but 29 roads objected to certain features. The main objection was in its application, especially in the case of men having light or intermittent employment. Other carriers ask a nine or ten hour day. A majority of roads indicated their desire to pay a straight monthly salary for all services in such cases or intermittent work.

Elimination of personal office forces, usually chief clerks and stenographers, from jurisdiction of the agreement is sought by most of the roads. Other important rules in dispute are those governing seniority and promotion. Employees in some cases seek to have seniority the sole requirement, disregarding fitness or ability.

In the case of rules agreed to by a railroad and its employees, those rules will be effective superseding the corresponding rules of the national agreement. The rules disagreed on will be replaced by those drawn up by the board.

TO MARK LUSITANIA'S GRAVE

This is a model of a statue proposed to mark the spot off the Irish coast where the Lusitania was torpedoed. It is by Georges DuBois, noted French sculptor. Release of Political Prisoners by Great Britain Expected in Few Days

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Measures to be taken toward setting up a new government in Ireland for carrying out the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty, were considered by the cabinet of the Dail Eireann at a meeting today in the Mansion House. One of the first moves, it is understood, will be the appointment of a commission to proceed to London and confer with the British government. It is regarded likely that Dublin Castle will be taken over from the English within the next few days. Cabinet circles anticipate this will be an event of the utmost importance in the minds of the Irish people, as a historic step towards the fulfillment of Ireland's aspirations. The release of the political prisoners by Great Britain is expected in a day or two.

Nothing has as yet transpired here regarding any plans the opponents of the treaty may be formulating.

Immediate Action Urged
LONDON, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The British government today calls upon the British government to assemble parliament as soon as possible, next week at the latest, to give formal authority to the new Irish government. INCREASE IN CITY BUDGET

Believed That Estimates for 1922 Will Exceed Expectations for 1921

Printed Schedules of Estimates for Expenditures Received by City Auditor

There is a general feeling that throughout all city departments estimates of expenditures for 1922 will be submitted in excess of 1921 expenditures, but this does not necessarily mean a larger budget in total as the city council has the last word as to its ultimate amount.

The printed schedules of estimates for expenditures have been received by the city auditor, who will distribute them to the various departments.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

Court Calls Union's Action "a Conspiracy to Procure Breach of Contract"

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Supreme Court Justice Wagner today granted an application of Benjamin Schlesinger, president of International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, for a permanent injunction restraining members of the Cloak, Suit & Skirt Manufacturers' association from "combining together" to enforce a 40-hour week and the piecework system in their factories.

Justice Wagner held that adoption of a 40-hour week and a piecework system, which were put into effect on Nov. 14, 1921, were in violation of the terms of the contract previously entered into by the employers with the union and which was still in force.

The order enjoins every officer and member of the association from "combining and conspiring in any way to order, direct, instigate, counsel, advise or encourage" any member to violate existing agreements with the union and from "doing or sanctioning any act in furtherance or support of such conspiracy." It specifically enjoins any act calculated to aid in abrogating the provisions of the agreement for a 44-hour week and a weekly pay basis.

The case is said to be the first on record in which a labor union has sought to restrain a group of employers from violation of contractual relations. Justice Wagner said:

"Therefore, the employer alone has prayed for the protection of a court of equity against threatened irreparable, illegal acts of employees. But mutuality of obligations compels a mutuality of remedy. The fact that the employees have entered equity's door by a hitherto untraveled path does not lessen their right to the law's decree."

WEATHER MAN SCORED TODAY

Old-Fashioned Snow Storm With Blizzard Trimmings Visits Lowell

Street Railway Using Sweepers and Plows—Street Department Gets Busy

The weather man scored today, making his January average five up and a few more to go. Sweeping down from the far north-east and also from the upper corner of the east, an old-fashioned New England winter storm with blizzard-like aspirations struck Lowell this morning soon after local commuters arrived at their places of employment, and before noon the city was under a good-sized blanket of snow.

The weather man expects it to be a good deal colder by nightfall and there is likely to be a continuance of the storm all night and into tomorrow. During the morning the north-east winds increased and frequent changes from that direction to dead east swirled the heavy snow in all directions with gale force. Tonight northeast and east winds are predicted, with increasing intensity.

SUNDAY SHOW QUESTION

Mayor Meets Representative of Local Theatre Managers—No Statement

As the result of a meeting of local theatre managers last night, one representative was authorized to seek an interview with Mayor George H. Brown, which was granted early this afternoon and pending the result of the conference, no action has been taken by the theatre men regarding their applications for licenses next Sunday.

It is understood that the theatre men are of two minds on the Sunday license question. They say in reply to Mayor Brown's indirect announcement to them that he will allow them to operate only on a 50-40 per cent basis with some worthy charity, that they feel that a 10 per cent donation to charity of their net profits is all that can be stood and while this has not been delivered in the form of an ultimatum, nevertheless it is the general feeling that prevails.

The mayor could not be reached at his office this morning, as he was at 2 o'clock. The speaker will be Mr. Joseph Smith of Boston, formerly of Lowell.

HUSH HISTORICAL SOCIETY

RESOLUTION TO OUST NEWBERRY

Democrats Agree Upon Revision of Resolve to Declare Senate Seat Vacant

Debate Started With Wrangle With Indications of Heated Arguments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—National republican leaders were charged by Senator Underwood of Alabama, democratic leader, in the senate today, with having "determined to buy a seat" in the senate for Truman H. Newberry, whose retention of that seat is contested by Henry Ford, his democratic opponent.

The democratic leader entering into the debate for the first time declared that as he saw the Newberry case and as he believed the country viewed it, "the issue involved is whether the republican party as a party, intends to obey the law of the land."

Cross-Examination of R. P. Matches Witness in Pelletier Trial Postponed

Records of Suffolk County Grand Jury of Dec. 1918, Offered by Atty. Gen. Allen

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The records of the Suffolk county grand jury of December, 1918, were offered by Attorney General J. Weston Allen in the supreme court today when the trial of District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, on charges of misconduct in office, was resumed. The hearing today continued on the specification which charges that Pelletier failed from improper motives to prosecute a ring of alleged automobile thieves.

The grand jury record showed that indictments were voted against George T. Perry, a lawyer, and six others on Dec. 4, 1918, and that this action was rescinded several days later. No indictments were returned.

The prosecution contends that Pelletier allowed Perry to go before the grand jury after the indictment against him was returned and permitted him to make false

The Crook is bound from Antwerp for New York.

With amazing gales reported off the coast, apprehensions regarding the Crook will prevail until she arrives.

TEN CENT MILK FOR LOWELL

Plymouth Creamery Company Says Ten Cent Milk is on the Way

No Mystery About Supply—Company Gets Its Milk in St. Johnsbury, Vt.

Ten cent milk for Lowell is in the offing.

The Sun was informed today by the Plymouth Creamery company, which recently smashed the price of milk down to 11 cents a quart, that 10-cent milk is not an impossibility within a short time.

Eugene F. Callahan, president and general manager of the company that has headquarters at 155 Middlesex st., declared that he fails to understand why some people think there is any mystery about the Plymouth milk and the low price it is now selling for.

"The main plant, our headquarters, is in St. Johnsbury, Vt. You probably know where that place is. It is one of the biggest milk producing and shipping headquarters in New England, and handles the very best kind of milk, besides, as every New England farmer knows, we are simply buying our milk, paying the farmers decent prices and are able to bring it to Lowell and distribute it at a fair profit."

Mr. Callahan indicated that the Plymouth creamery wasn't out to become a Rockefeller combination in a day. The company is satisfied with decent profits which will increase, Mr. Callahan said, as the 11-cent milk is further distributed. He told all callers today that hundreds of new customers are putting their names on the books for deliveries every morning.

COASTING ACCIDENT

Another coasting accident occurred late yesterday afternoon at the junction of Powers and Fletcher streets, but fortunately no one was seriously injured. It seems that a couple of boys were coasting down Powers street on a sled shortly after 5 o'clock and were girded by a Fletcher street, when an automobile owned by Fred H. Bourke and operated by Leo P. McCarthy of 70 Willie street came in sight in Fletcher street. The driver of the car applied the brakes, but the auto skidded and side-swiped the sled, throwing its occupants to the ground. One of the boys named Roldoux, aged about 10 years, and residing in Powers street, received a cut over the right eye and received treatment at the Lowell Corporation hospital.

MATHEW TEMPERANCE INSTITUTE CONCERT

The 1922 Musical Revue by the Mathew Temperance Institute will be presented in Associate hall tomorrow evening and every indication points to a repetition of the success attained in previous years. The final rehearsal was held last night and everyone in the cast evidenced a perfect understanding and thorough training in his or her specialty.

The performance will begin with a humorous prelude, "The New Year," written and delivered by J. Eugene Mullin, the Mathews' leading comedian. All the soloists who follow are exceptionally skilled performers, with past reputations to live up to or to improve. Miss Sadie Sheehan, the co-contrast, Miss Emily Gaudette, the premier soprano, who sang the leading part in "Springtime" last fall; the versatile Dion sisters, Misses Alice, Bertha and Mary; Charles J. Keyes, another "Springtime" favorite; and an old-timer with the Mathews, Patrick Maguire, widely known and esteemed end-man in Mathew and other shows; James (Roundy) Roane, one of the most popular ballad singers in the city; James Delgann, who sings character and "straight" numbers equally well; Edward Donahue, one of the Mathews' favorite tenors for several years; and an excellent and well known quartet, who some of the attractions offered in tomorrow evening's musical revue.

In addition to these big-time singers a chorus of 100 young men and women, attractively costumed, will lend their assistance on many of the numbers, and it may be said that the chorus will introduce some skilful and pretty effects.

PREPARING TO LEAVE FOR BELGIUM

Henry P. Fletcher is packing his trunks for his trip to Belgium as United States ambassador. With Mrs. Fletcher he stopped work long enough to be snapped in front of their Washington home. He was under secretary of state.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumas Pelletier, of 28 Warrack street, observed their 5th wedding anniversary at their home last night with a reception to their relatives and friends. There were about 25 couples and all spent a most enjoyable evening. An address of congratulations was read to the couple, who were also remembered with appropriate gifts. In the course of the evening entertainment numbers were given by Henry Beauchamp, Leo Pitt, B. Bellefleur, Tromblay, A. Bellefleur and A. Desrochers. A buffet luncheon was also served.

LOWELL MAN ON VISIT FROM ROUMANIA

Charles Edouard Bourk, a native of this city, who has been connected with the American consular service for the past five or six years, is now visiting his mother, Mrs. Alexandra Bourk, a former resident of this city and now of Hartford, Conn. The young man will come to this city next Tuesday and will remain here three days during which time he will be pleased to meet his former friends and acquaintances. Mr. Bourk is a graduate of the Lowell high school. At one time he was employed in the local office of the Eastern Massachusetts St. Jy. Co., and later he went to Washington, D. C., where he entered the consular service as a clerk. During his years in the service he has traveled in practically every part of the world. He is now located in Roumania, where he is connected with a large Italian State corporation. He is a member of the C. M.A.C. and next Tuesday he will attend the regular meeting of the organization and it is expected that he will deliver a lecture on his travels.

Ten Cent Milk for Lowell

The 11-cent milk has apparently made a ten-cent milk in all sections of the city. Milk is now distributed in all sections of the city. There are several delivery trucks, and every bottle is left early in the morning at the homes desiring it. Mr. Callahan wants his customers and all prospective ones to know that the Plymouth creamery is thoroughly pasteurized and put up in sanitary bottles. The milk is always under constant supervision and inspection, and runs high in volume of necessary food values to make it ideal for children as well as for all home uses. The Plymouth company leads New England in getting milk prices down to the 11-cent mark. The company announced today that the wholesale price is being taken care of as well as the retail branch and of course wholesalers get a still lower price so they can have a fair profit.

The creamery is not a new concern, Mr. Callahan said today. It is really ten years old, and the company finds it in splendid shape to do business in Lowell and vicinity. Deliveries are promptly made, and every section of the city is covered by salesmen. "In disposing of milk to the wholesale trade," said Mr. Callahan, "we are saving them from 15 to 20 cents a can on the milk they buy from us. That is some saving, isn't it, considering also the low price we charge?"

Mr. Callahan wants it known that the concern deeply appreciates the Lowell public's generous welcome and patronage. He said he would endeavor before long to cut the price to 10 cents, just as quickly as conditions warrant it. He believed 10-cent milk could be produced in a short time, and when the producing situation is just right, Lowell customers of the company will get the benefit promptly.

"The more we sell, the greater will be our volume of business and the sooner we can cut down the price," said Mr. Callahan. "We are an independent concern. No one is going to dictate to us how to run our business or tell us what we must charge for our milk. They have tried it many times, but we haven't been nipped. We can do business in Lowell and other cities and make money without charging exorbitant prices for our pasteurized milk. And let it be known that our milk, even if the price looks low, is the finest standard milk in New England today. Ask any health authority. And we are having no trouble getting it. There is plenty of milk everywhere, and that is why, for one thing, we are able to do business in Lowell on a fair basis and increase the number of our customers."

Numerous farmers in Middlesex county say they are only receiving 6.68 cts. a quart return from certain Boston distributors for their milk. Today in the town of Acton, where thousands of cans of milk are shipped every morning to Boston markets, the return for the farmers is slightly below 7 cents a quart and there are numerous cases each month carried on the return ships as "cheese milk" for which the farmer gets only a few cents per can. The farmer has to take the distributor's word for it that his milk cannot be sold owing to the large supply, but the farmer loses on his daily shipment returns when a can or two of milk are put out and placed on the "cheese" list.

W. H. B. Proctor, well known farmer and milk producer of Acton, told The Sun this morning that his last month's milk check showed the price per quart to average slightly less than seven cents.

"There is no reason at all why the Plymouth creamery or any other Lowell concern should not be able to sell milk for 11 cents a quart. We producers are getting less than 7 cents a quart, to say nothing about our losses on the 'cheese' milk. There is a range now of from 6 to 8 cents between the price we get for our milk and the price at which it sells for in the cities."

"I believe the Plymouth creamery has the right idea. Keep the retail price down, give the farmer fair treatment and there will be enough calls for milk from customers when it can be bought freely at fair prices. The farmers isn't making the money. The dealers who charge exorbitant prices are the men who are making it. I believe the Plymouth creamery price of 11 cents in Lowell will amount to a reduction everywhere. And I also believe that 10 cents would be all right if the milk retailers only got together and looked at the business in the right way."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents.

B. F. KESTER'S THEATRE.
Laugh at Johnny Burke, who is at the B. Kester Theatre this week, giving his lumbago satire on army life, entitled "Draught." We admit some of the subject he discusses so plentifully, and so humorously, about. Certainly it is not a man without inside information about the army, and he brings out so many very funny points. He is the week's big laughing tonic. Madame Bessen in the Woman Who Knew" is a comedy drama, also on this week's bill, and particularly effective in the several of the situations. Adler and Finkler in the bill very well with an act of unusual ideas, and Miss Lois Bennett, the California nightingale, is one of the week's best singers. Other acts are: Hickey & Hart, Haystack Bros., and Josie O'Mears.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE.
Capacity audiences are still the rule at the Merrimack Square theatre where "The Sheikh," the noted George D. Melford Paramount production of Arabian life, is playing a week's engagement. The photoplay has made a decided hit in Lowell and there are already indications that a week's engagement will be none too long to give all the photoplay lovers of Lowell and the surrounding towns who wish to see the picture an opportunity to do so.

The featured players in "The Sheikh" are Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino. Miss Ayres is a star in her own right well known to Paramount audiences, while Mr. Valentino who won fame by his remarkable performance in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," is regarded by critics as one of the best leading men of the screen. He has what is known as "class" and in the title role of "The Sheikh" his dominating personality asserts itself in every scene with convincing effect. Miss Ayres in "Forbidden Fruit," a Cecil B. De Mille production, won recognition for her skill as a dramatic actress. Again in his "The Affairs of Anatol," she makes fine use of the material afforded her in one episode of that screen masterpiece. The combination of Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino makes "The Sheikh" additionally powerful. Performances of "The Sheikh" are given daily at 2:30, 5:30 and 8:30 p. m. There has been no advance in prices for this big feature. The second big attraction of the current program is the curiously titled "Too Much Married," a most entertaining story of modern life.

"ROMANCE WEEK"

Peace in Ireland, the disarmament conference, the increasing purchasing power of the dollar, the increase in advance orders in every line of manufacturing, and the decrease in unemployment, the lifting of burdensome taxes in countless lines all point to a return to normalcy and good times. Throughout the country there is a spirit of optimism, and the "good times" spirit will be celebrated by a "good time" week which has been designated "Romance Week." Romance and silver sheet are one and inseparable. In the humdrum of everyday life will come "romance week" in which the family will be able to travel along unfamiliar trails into the land of adventure. The Merrimack Square theatre is the Black circuit house in Lowell and the management has prepared in keeping with "romance week" a bill that will thrill you. The date will be announced tomorrow.

CROWN THEATRE

Wally Reid, one of the most popular stars of the screen comes to the Crown theatre today in his Paramount picture, "The Affairs of Anatol." This is a big story splendidly pictured, and it is filled with thrills and suspense from start to finish. Agnes Ayres heads a strong supporting company. A story that abounds with romance, action and human interest is promised in "Indiscreet Kisses," a new Selznick production starring Elaine Hammerstein, which today will begin a two-day engagement at the Crown theatre. Indiscreet Kisses was written by Thomas Edgelow and appeared first in story form in "Young's Magazine" and is said to be an ideal vehicle for the popular Selznick star.

HALLO THEATRE

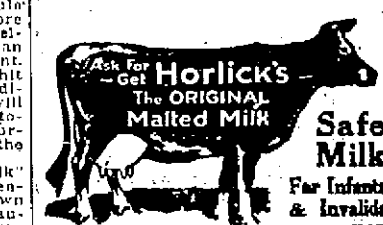

"Today is your last opportunity to see Thomas Jefferson in his father's old-time success, 'Rip Van Winkle.'" The play is a comedy, and it is a play that has made its appearance at the Hallo for many weeks. Another feature is "The Face of the World," also a comedy, and the management has promised a big feature of tomorrow's show will be William Desmond in "Fighting Mad."

OPERA HOUSE

Nothing better in the way of scenic artistry has ever been shown on any local stage since the past in Lowell. It is reflected this week at the Opera House in the presentation of Cosmo Hamilton's delightful comedy drama, "Scandal." Director Louis Allen and scenic artist Stillwell surely deserve special mention for their superior efforts. As for the presentation, the play itself by Miss Marguerite Fields and her own company, too much cannot be said in the way of commendation. It is unquestionably one of the most satisfying of the better grades of the musical drama shown locally in years. Capacity audiences at all performances testify to this fact. Don't miss it. It's a real stage treat.

THE STRAND

"The Son of Wallingford" one of the most spectacular and human screen productions of the season, and "A Wife Awakens," the feature contribution on the Strand bill for the first part of the week, will be shown for the last time today. If you haven't seen them, be sure to avail yourself of the last opportunity today. It's a truly worth-while bill. "The Invisible Power," with House Peters, assisted by June Rich, Sydney Ainsworth and other screen favorites, will be one of the features for the week-end, starting with matinee on Thursday. This is a strong drama by Charles Kenyon, author of the famous American play, "Kindling." It is essentially the story of the regeneration of a former thief, but emphasizes the difficulties that his wife undergoes rather than the underworld activities of gangster. A big kick in "High Heels," the latest Gladys Walton feature. It's a snappy drama of a society flapper's awakening to the meaning of life and love. It has the proverbial rip and punch with Miss Walton at her best. See it.

POSITIONS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

According to the report submitted yesterday to Commander Stephen C. Garrity by Adjutant Robert J. Rutledge, 161 men have been placed in permanent positions through the employment bureau of Lowell Post, American Legion, since its inception about two months ago. The total number of applications received at the bureau to date are approximately 1400, 25 per cent. calling for skilled trades, and 75 per cent. signifying their willingness to work at anything. Mr. Rutledge, who is director of the bureau, states in his report that the average number of applicants for work per day is 25 per cent. Thirty per cent. of the total applicants are married and have families, the report further shows, and 10 per cent. of the latter, the adjutant states, have received and are receiving the same treatment accorded to service men, no lines having been drawn. Besides the 161 permanent jobs obtained, the report states that more than 200 men have been given temporary employment in the public service departments of the city of Lowell during the recent emergencies occasioned by the stormy weather. The adjutant closes his report by saying that he does not note any appreciable decrease in the daily number of applicants.

The local police have been appealed to by Mrs. S. Ashworth of Box 31, the Pas, Manitoba, Canada, to assist her in locating a relative of hers by the name of Arthur Lee, who at one time lived in Lowell. The police superintendent asks that any knowledge of the man sought be turned over to him.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION TO PRESENT PLAY

The Lowell Teachers' association will present Gilbert & Sullivan's opera, "The Mikado," as this year's theatrical offering. Last year the association presented "The Mikado" and the success of it led the members of the association to attempt a more difficult opera this year. Feb. 20 is the date decided upon.

The first rehearsal has been held and from the manner in which members are taking hold of the production, the affair will eclipse last year's show. P. O. Blunt, assistant instructor of music in the public schools, will again direct the production.

The entire cast has not yet been picked but it is expected this phase of the work will be completed by the end of the week. Last season the cast was picked for the most part from members of the association. This plan will be followed out this year as far as is possible. It is expected that a little outside help will be solicited. The chorus will be made up of recent graduates of the high school.

To date only one rehearsal has been held, but with less than six weeks to complete the work, it is planned to seats to supply the demand for the evening performance, seats for the matinee will be allotted. No pupil may apply for more than 15 tickets. A scale of prices for the tickets has been made up and announced to the pupils through posters. It was planned at first to have the performance on two days, including both Monday and Tuesday, but this was dropped owing to the added expense of such an undertaking. Much interest is being evidenced by the students at the school and their friends, and from present indications, tickets to the performance will be mighty scarce articles days before the time for filing applications expires.

"Danderine" costs only 35 cents a bottle. One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and, in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. Bomb Hurlled at Tram Car in Belfast

BELEST, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—A bomb was thrown at a tram car bearing 75 persons to their work in the Crumlin road district today. The quick action of the driver, who put on full speed when he heard a revolver shot, resulted in the missile going wide of the mark. The explosion splintered the car. A man and his wife living nearby, who went to the door of their house to learn the cause of the commotion, were shot dead by a volley of rifle fire which swept the street.

PLANS FOR ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

Plans for the annual high school play, "Penrod," to be given by the pupils of the high school under the direction of Miss Mary C. Joyce, instructor in vocal education, are going along smoothly. The play will be given in the Opera House on Jan. 30, both afternoon and evening.

Rehearsals are being held in the high school building on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and, according to reports, the play this year will be even better than those of past years. Last year the pupils presented "Happiness," the year before "The Girl and the Penitent" and the year previous to that "Charley's Aunt." The proceeds each year are turned over to the High School Athletic association.

"Penrod" is a play in four acts, adapted for the stage by Edward E. Rose from Booth Tarkington's stories. These stories have been read by all classes of people in the past few years and are listed among the most popular pieces of fiction at the present time. It is based on the last series of stories in which Tarkington figures, the series in which his efforts as an amateur detective have been chronicled. Episodes from many of the earlier stories are also incorporated in the stage version. All the familiar characters people the play, including Sam Williams, the irresponsible; Herman and Newman, the colored brethren; George Hasset, that paragon of all virtues; Marjorie Jones, Penrod's sweetheart; the suave Mr. Herbert Hamilton Wade; the Rev. Mr. Kinross; Mr. and Mrs. Schofield; Margaret, Penrod's big sister; her 19-year-old sweetheart, Bob Williams; and Jargo, the hired man.

Must Apply For Tickets

Applications for tickets for either performance, enclosing the payment in full, will be received at the school office until the close of school on Tuesday, Jan. 24. Applications should be made on blanks, which may be obtained at the office, and should state clearly "Matinee or Evening" performance, location of seats desired, balcony, floor or box, number of seats and price.

There will be no war tax charge on the tickets. The tickets will be assigned to applicants impartially by lot. After all applications are filed, the remaining seats, if any, will be sold at the school office until the close of school on Friday, Jan. 27. Unsold tickets may be secured at the box office at the theatre. Applications for seats must be filed with the understanding that when seats, applied for are not available, the next best seats will be allotted. Also in case there are not enough

A detailed report of the year's activities was the chief business to come before the chamber of commerce last night when that body convened in the chamber rooms for its annual meeting. President Harry L. Chalifoux was in the chair.

Of the important things to come up at the meeting were the adoption of amendments to the by-laws which will provide that in the future the annual meeting shall be held on the second Tuesday of February instead of January, thus making the annual session conform to the close of the fiscal year which will be the last day of January instead of December.

Routine matters were soon disposed of and the report of Secretary George F. Wells was presented. The report follows:

Secretary's Report

It is an unfortunate condition at present existing in this organization which provides that the annual meeting should be held two or three weeks prior to the end of the organization year. Our year ends Jan. 31st, but our annual meeting is held the second Tuesday in January. It is impossible therefore for your secretary to have prepared and printed the annual report for a year which has not yet ended; neither can we present to you a financial report for the entire year. This has been rectified at this meeting and in the future the annual report will be printed and ready for the annual meeting.

This report will for this reason be largely a summary of a few of the more important activities and will not go into much detail, leaving that to the final report which will be issued about February 1.

Membership. The membership at the close of the campaign in 1920 was 1147, but losses by death, changes in business and through some plural membership which were signed for one year only reduced the total at the close of the first year to 1063. During the second year we have added 223 new members which would make a total of 1286; I am not able to give a complete statement of our total losses for the year, but there have been 10 lost by death, 18 who have left the city or gone out of business; eight lost by changes and one whose resignation has been accepted making a total of 37. In addition there are some members who, due to the unsatisfactory business conditions, have asked to be relieved of paying their dues, but upon which no action has yet been taken. I am safe in saying, however, that our membership at the close of the second year will be more than at the close of the campaign in January, 1920, and considering the business conditions, I feel that this is rather remarkable.

Finance

Our financial condition is equally gratifying, although I am able to present a report for only 10 months ending Nov. 30. This shows that the organization has kept within its budget, paid last year's deficit amounting to $3637.87.

Meetings

The board of directors has held 26 meetings with a total attendance of 293; 63 committee meetings have been

Charles Still Expects to Return to Hungary

BUDAPEST, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—"I regard Hungary as my fatherland. I am also convinced that I will return to Hungary." Former Emperor Charles is quoted as making this declaration to the correspondent of a Budapest newspaper who interviewed him at Funchal, Madeira, where he is in exile. "I have the highest esteem for the loyalty of Count Andrássy, Count Apponyi and Count Sigray and whatever happens, I do not doubt the loyalty of the Hungarian nation," added Charles.

Increase in Britain's Foreign Trade

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Great Britain's foreign trade decreased in 1921 from that of 1920, the annual board of trade returns show. Imports were valued at 1,086,000,000 pounds sterling, compared with 1,332,000,000 in 1920. Exports totalled £703,000,000 compared with £1,334,000,000 in 1920.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 11.—Fines collected for violation of the liquor laws, imposed after trial, in the Hartford city court during 1921, reached a total of $63,500, according to figures announced today. This revenue goes into the city treasury.

held with an attendance of 513; 103 other meetings have been held at the chamber of commerce offices, making a total of 198 meetings with a total attendance of 2943. In addition to these committee workers, 215 members gave their services during the initiative campaign last summer. Out of a total membership nearly 50 per cent have served the organization in some manner during the year and this is a remarkable example of service to the community.

Luncheons and Membership Meetings. Only two membership meetings have been held. This has been due to the difficulty of finding a place where luncheons could be held. Membership meetings are necessary and we propose to hold at least monthly meetings during the coming year if a suitable place can be secured.

The program of work for 1921 adopted by the board of directors early in the year provided for four general lines of activity—municipal affairs, trade development, transportation and special efforts.

City Budget. The first plank, municipal affairs, owing to existing conditions, received a major portion of attention during the year. In February a committee was appointed to meet with the municipal council and urge a reduction in the proposed city budget. Their efforts occupied nearly two weeks of constant work. The proposed budget presented to the council called for appropriations amounting to $425,707. After our committee had made its protest against many of the increases a reduction was made of $23,234, and later, after additional hearings, a further reduction was made of $30,760, making a total reduction of $53,994, which is equivalent to $22 per $100 in the final tax rate. Just how much of this reduction can be credited to the work of the committee no one can tell, but I believe it is generally admitted that if this committee had not protested very little if any reduction would have been made.

Streets. The street problem was the activity that next received attention. A survey of the streets made in 1920, together with recommendations, was presented to the municipal council late in 1920 and was referred to the street commissioner. A second recommendation was made to the council and laid on the table. The street committee then secured Walter F. Haxman to come to Lowell and confer with the committee. Following a report made by Mr. Haxman a conference was held between the directors and the street commissioner, following which another recommendation was made to the council that Chairman Haxman be named by contract. This received the same consideration as the previous recommendations, being laid on the table.

A referendum was at once taken of the membership, asking their approval of the presenting of an initiative petition to the city council which would provide that all paving of streets be done by contract. This referendum resulted in a vote of 328 in favor and 10 against. The initiative petition was started, and 517 signatures were secured by 315 members. The petition was presented to the council, voted down, and a special election held on August 9, when the petition was defeated by 645 votes. Over 19,000 votes were cast, at that time the largest number of votes ever cast in a city election here.

The result was an increased interest throughout the city in civic affairs; increased interest in the chamber of commerce; the recognition of the chamber of commerce as a factor in municipal affairs, not as a political organization but as an organization which demands a more business-like administration of city affairs.

Fire Protection Committee

Through the activities of this committee a survey of the fire hazards has been made by the national board of underwriters which will soon be made public. It may be possible after this report is received that, with certain needed changes put into effect, a reduction may be made in insurance rates. The recommendation of this committee made in 1920 that a new fire house be built in the Highlands and that additional water mains be laid in the Highlands have both been carried out during the year. The chamber of commerce also co-operated with the city in the observance of fire prevention week.

Traffic Regulation

Realizing that the increased use of automobiles demanded better traffic regulation in the city a committee was appointed which made a study of this problem. This committee recommended to the mayor the adoption of a new traffic ordinance which would eliminate the parking of automobiles where it would interfere with traffic. The ordinance was put in effect late in the year and over 200 parking signs were erected giving clear directions as to how long and where automobiles could be parked. There are still needed white traffic lines on the streets at crossings and congested points and also some additional parking places near the centre of the city.

Industrial Committee

This committee can report five new industries secured through its activities which will employ approximately 500 hands. These are Conant, Houghton & Co., manufacturers of narrow fabric; Stern Bros., manufacturers of men's caps; Box Board Products Inc., manufacturers of paper boxes; Fidelity Shoe Co., manufacturers of shoes; and W. Watson Co., manufacturers of shoes.

In addition to these several other industries have located or expanded in Lowell which have received assistance and co-operation of the chamber of commerce. Among these being the Park Worsted Co. and the Lowell Public Warehouse Co.

Detail Merchants' Affairs

A mercantile committee was appointed early in the year and through this committee two "dollar days" were conducted successfully, one on February 12 and one on August 29. In March a price survey and comparison of prices here with those of other cities was carried out with productive results and considerable satisfaction for Lowell merchants. Suburban day has been conducted each month, the first of these days being April 6. On May 13 it, W. Sully of the National Cash Register Co., gave an address to

Mass. Boys to Attend Summer Camp

ORONO, Me., Jan. 11.—The second summer camp of the University of Maine regiment, Reserve Officers' Training Corps, will be held at Camp Andrews, Newport, Me., four days beginning May 4. Major Luther R. James, professor of military science and tactics, announced today. This involves approximately 600 boys from all the counties of Maine, also of the states of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Vermont, New York and New Jersey. Camp Andrews was named in honor of Harold T. Andrews of Portland, the first Maine boy and University of Maine student, to lose his life in the world war.

Depression in Coal Trade Brings Privation

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—Depression in the local coal trade has brought privation to miners in many places in the Pittsburgh bituminous district, according to officials of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America. In a statement today, Robert H. Gibbons, president of the district union, said that of approximately 45,000 miners in the region, at a rough estimate only 28,000 had worked. Many of these miners, he said, have worked for the past year only a day or two a week, and often only a half day a week. Their earnings in these cases, Gibbons said, would not enable them to meet the bare necessities of life.

Harvey Recovers, Attends Council

CANNES, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, attended today's session of the allied supreme council having almost completely recovered from the shock he suffered in an automobile accident on Monday. Members of the council heartily congratulated him on his escape from serious injury.

French Cabinet Discusses Negotiations

PARIS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—A cabinet council presided over by President Millerand, met at the Elysee palace today and again discussed the negotiations at Cannes, concerning which Premier Briand had telegraphed a request for instructions and advice. The meeting lasted nearly three hours and the results of the deliberations were transmitted to the premier at Cannes. It is understood that the proposed Anglo-French defensive agreement was the main object under consideration.

The members on "Getting the Most Out of Business" Observance was secured for the law governing the hours of auctioneers and a film on early Christmas shopping was shown in the moving picture theatres. Soliciting projects were investigated and several were accepted. Program advertising was eliminated.

Education and Recreation

The committee on this subject visited New Bedford to study the winter school which the Americanization work was done there through the public school department. Local Americanization was continued through co-operation with the North American Civic League for Immigrants. This organization had the services of a Greek and a Polish teacher who organized classes in the public schools, assisted in securing naturalization papers and prepared foreigners for naturalization. Two evening street playgrounds were conducted under competent supervision and over 15,000 children attended. The purchase of Washington park by the city was advocated and this purchase was ultimately made. The purchase of Spaulding park by the city was recommended provided it be at not more than the assessed value.

Co-operation of Newspapers

A deep sense of appreciation and gratitude is expressed to the local newspapers and their representatives for the splendid co-operation and assistance which they have given the organization. I doubt if any city in New England has received the amount of publicity that has been so generously given this organization. It is largely through the local newspapers that our activities are brought before the community as a whole and without their support it would be impossible for an organization like ours to exist.

Conclusion

The work of the organization has been guided and directed by your board of directors who have given freely of their time and experience for the improvement of our city. Meeting have been held every two weeks and the attendance has been remarkable; oftentimes three hours have been devoted to a meeting considering those questions which affect development of Lowell.

Germans Summoned to Conference

CANNES, France, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Representatives of the German government today were summoned to appear this evening before the allied reparations commission to explain Germany's inability to meet her January and February reparations payments. The allied supreme council ordered this hearing as a result of insistence by Premier Briand, who recalled that the Germans had failed to give detailed information sought by the commission before the Christmas holidays as a preliminary to examination of the question of a moratorium for Germany. After the hearing the reparations commission will refer the matter to the supreme council.

Postoffice Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—With provisions for the air mail service eliminated, the annual postoffice appropriation bill, carrying approximately $554,000,000 was favorably reported today by the house appropriations committee. As drafted by a subcommittee the measure provided $1,935,000 for the air mail service during the fiscal year beginning next July 1. The full committee, however, in approving the bill struck out this section. The total carried in the measure is $36,707,976 less than the appropriations for the current fiscal year and $24,735,691 less than the amount requested by the budget bureau.

Train Plunged Down Bank; One Killed

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Jan. 11.—J. G. Callahan, a fireman, was killed when the engine, tender and three coal cars of a freight train plunged down a 100-foot embankment near Siletville, today. Callahan was caught in the cab of the engine and scalded to death. Collapse of a huge fill, weakened by heavy rains, was given as the cause of the accident.

PROMINENT POLITICIANSENGAGED IN DUEL

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 11.—The popular fancy has been captivated by the details of a duel which has been fought here by Dr. Rodolfo Moreno and Senator Fernando Saguler. Dr. Moreno is an eminent conservative politician and candidate for the governorship of the province of Buenos Aires, while Senator Saguler is a no less eminent radical politician. The dispute arose over the philosophy of a radical election poster. When Dr. Moreno criticized it, Senator Saguler, who was in no way responsible, felt it incumbent upon him to do battle for its author, with the result that Dr. Moreno demanded satisfaction. They met with pistols in a suburb of Buenos Aires attended by several distinguished men, including a former mayor of the city and a Chilean diplomat.

Both fired at the signal but neither was wounded. Dr. Moreno's second noted that Senator Saguler had fired at the ground and they then insisted that Dr. Moreno should stand up unarmed to receive another shot, but Senator Saguler refused to fire upon him. A discussion resulted in a reconciliation.

COMMISSION MEETS SECOND TRIAL OF ARBUCKLE

Bills for Memorial Auditorium

Approved—Mayor Brown Qualifies as Member

Mayor George H. Brown qualified before the city clerk as a member of the memorial auditorium commission this morning, and at 10 o'clock attended the meeting of the commission, called primarily for the purpose of approving bills. The entire commission was present, excepting Walter L. Parker, who is in Florida, and also Dr. H. Blackhall, architect, Harry Prescott Graves and William Draper, contractor. The entire auditorium plan was gone over very carefully for the benefit of Mayor Brown and matters of future procedure on the part of the commission were discussed.

CONSIDER GERMANY'S WAR REPARATIONS

CANNES, France, Jan. 11 (by the Associated Press).—While the allied supreme council met today to consider Germany's war reparations, much of the interest of the delegates was centered in Paris where the French cabinet held a special session to consider France's position as the result of the decisions reached here.

Approval by the council last night of the plan for formation of an international financial corporation, left the reparations question as the most important item remaining on the agenda. The conference with the German reparations delegation under Dr. Walter Rathenau, which was to arrive today, were expected to be brief.

PURSE FOR EX-COMMISSIONER

Ex-Commissioner of Streets and Highways Denis A. Murphy was summoned to the street department yard on Broadway late yesterday afternoon and was presented a substantial purse by the men of the department. Mayor George H. Brown made the speech of presentation, and Mr. Murphy expressed his gratitude to his former employers for their testimonial of esteem and affection. Prior to the presentation all the department employees assembled in the yard to witness the ceremony.

BUDGET COMMISSION

The budget and audit commission, Tyler A. Stevens, chairman, met this afternoon at 1 o'clock with the city auditor for the purpose of going over the first pay rolls of the year.

held at the headquarters, 21 Mt. Vernon street, Arthur W. Joslin, treasurer, and Telford Minton, secretary, were re-elected.

In resigning, Mr. Lloyd said that he will continue his support of the organization, which he termed "a compelling patriotic force in the affairs of the nation."

Attorneys for Both Sides Expect Trial Will Be Longer Than First One

Venire of 60 Has Been Called —Bitter Legal Battle is Predicted

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—Roscoe Arbuckle's second trial on a charge of manslaughter, in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, took the top place on the calendar today, before Judge Louderback. The jury in the first case disagreed.

Attorneys for both defense and prosecution have expressed belief that this trial will be longer than the first one. It is expected to develop into a legal battle between Matthew Brady, district attorney of San Francisco county, and Gaven McNab, chief of the Arbuckle defense staff.

A venire of 60 has been called and several days are expected to pass before selection of a jury has been completed.

DECREASE IN CITY'S BORROWING CAPACITY

The city of Lowell will have a borrowing capacity for 1922 of $712,512.97, or a decrease from last year of $532,735, when the borrowing capacity was $717,535.32.

On Jan. 1, 1922, the city was $331,536.82 away from the debt limit compared with Jan. 1, 1921, when the distance from the debt limit was $366,366.07.

The figures for this year have been determined by making the necessary deductions from a recapitulation of all assessments upon real and personal estate for 1921 as well as the total valuation of all properties, real and personal, for last year, a complete report of which has been received by the city auditor from the board of assessors. This report is annual, but this year it has been submitted about two weeks prior to the usual time.

The figures also show that the limit of municipal debt for this year, based upon valuation of properties, will be $2,955,251.07.

SALARY INCREASESAT CITY HALL

Payrolls for the first week of the new year, submitted to the city auditor show that in the case of five city employees, salary increases have been granted. Eugene Toomey, street cleaner for the street department, goes from $34.50 to $35.50 per week. The three clerks in the street department office each receive an increase of $1.25 per week. Miss Anna Wood, clerk in the office of the inspector of wires, has been increased from $24.25 to $25 per week.

Weather Man Scored Today

coming on the storm's path, with clearing weather by Thursday afternoon or night. The wind will be westerly then.

Street Railway

The storm early this afternoon was handicapping street transportation so severely, although the railway company was early on the job keeping the rails clear, with three big sweepers out all the morning and five plows hard at it this noon. The delayed service was not a real hardship up to 1 o'clock, for even the Pawtucketville lines were kept open without any trouble. A high wind late in the morning swept a good deal of snow from the rails on many streets and aided the rail sweepers and switch tenders.

Every extra street railway employee is on the job this afternoon and Supt. Whalen is going to endeavor to give the commuters good service tonight on the home divisions. The plows are keeping the rails fairly clear, although some cars are working slowly on the grades with motorcars busy keeping the switch plugs from jumping out of place. One Pawtucketville car this morning was delayed badly on the outward trip by the switch arm getting loosened and keeping the motorman busy about half an hour.

Supt. Whalen says there will be plenty of cars for the patrons of the lines tonight. The temporary schedule on the Merrimack square—Hovey square and Andover street line—half-hourly from morning until 11 p.m. is to be continued until weather improves. The service is giving good satisfaction, and although not on only last Sunday, results have proved O. K. from the patrons as well as the company standpoint.

Two other lines may get half hour service here and there. Of course, during heavy storms, they will receive even more frequent service, and tonight all the extras available, and every man prepared for duty, will be called out to handle the patronage.

The service on the Lakewood avenue will be continued on the half-hour schedule, Mr. Whalen says. It is offering patrons out that way excellent service that has been appreciated. If his neighborhood reports don't lie.

The line cars east and south were running late all day, but the service was good. It is expected that the Western street line is kept clean without any trouble, the winds helping out that way.

Out of town lines were all open late this afternoon and no trouble reported in any quarter.

Street Department In anticipation of a real blizzard and its effect upon the street department of the city, Superintendent Doherty today laid plans for a speedy round-up of his employees during the night, if the superintendent needs them. Not only will the superintendent use every team in his own department, but also will endeavor to obtain additional teams from private stables and coal companies to the extent of the storm warrants it.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Important Matters Come Before Council in Session at Geneva Today

GENEVA, Jan. 11. (By the Associated Press).—Prominent among the matters coming before the council of the League of Nations today was the appointment of members of the commission governing the State valley and definition of what constitutes an inhabitant of the State.

Under the treaty of Versailles the majority of the inhabitants of the valley are under French control, but Germany insists they do not for this reason, lose their German nationality. Germany also protests against chairmanship of the governing commission being held by a Frenchman. M. Rault is head of the commission.

Next on the agenda is the question of guaranteeing the articles of the recent convention concluded in Geneva, concerning non-fortification and neutralization of the Alps and the Pyrenees. The complaint by the Finnish government, that the Russian soviet government is not observing the conditions of the treaty granting protection of the minorities in the Baltic region and allocation of its expenses among the various member countries.

Increase in City Budget

ute them to the municipal department to be a tax on the city.

The schedule sheets are different in many ways from those formerly used and it is said that they will be more simple to study and much easier to handle.

The schedules are ruled off into eight columns, explained as follows: Appropriation, 1921, expenditure, 1921, amount, unexpended—estimates for 1922—Budget Commission Recommendation—City Council Recommendation—Remarks.

It was learned today that when the estimated budget of the department of engineering is submitted, it will include sufficient money to care for the scrapping and painting of the bridges in the city which seem most in need of such repair.

The park department will seek to obtain additional money for the further improvement of Shedd park, although Superintendent Kernan does not know the approximate amount of his estimate.

says the imperial parliament should fulfill its moral obligation and see to it that the thing through quickly.

The Free State, with its provisional government, is at present an even more shadowy entity than was the Irish republic, the newspaper says.

Release of Prisoners Helps

DUBLIN, Jan. 11 (by the Associated Press).—Arthur Griffith, new president of the Dail Eireann, and his cabinet assumed today the places to which they were elected yesterday. It was recognized that careful work was necessary if pitfalls were to be avoided during the full month which must elapse before final ratification of the treaty creating the Irish Free State was possible.

On Feb. 14 the Dail will reconvene to ratify formally the document which it approved as the representative body of the Irish republic.

The possibility of the proverbial slip 'twixt cup and lip is not ignored, and it is feared in some quarters that the republicans may use the interval in attempting to turn popular feeling to their side. Neither has the specter of the republic's establishment of a completely new executive wholly disappeared.

Meanwhile no ugly forebodings haunt the Free State leaders, whose hands are virtually full. They claim to have assumed their tasks backed by the utmost good will of the majority of the Irish population. The reported decision of Great Britain to liberate immediately all political prisoners will, it is believed, strengthen their hands against any extremist efforts on this score, while if the British troops and other signs of "foreign domination" are rapidly removed, their troubles will be further lightened.

Face Many Difficulties The difficulties with which the new government is faced are commented upon by the political correspondent of the Freeman's Journal as follows: "A united and stable government has been established and the first stage of the fight for the treaty is won, but the obstructionist tactics of the opposite have added immensely to the difficulties of the national builders."

The new cabinet is shouldering a tremendous burden. It has the people of the country behind it but the circumstances of revolution have placed another group in a position to endanger the new born treaty.

The wide-spread independent editorial emphasizes the heavy task before the new government and hopes the people will loyally respect and obey it.

The Irish Times also is confident that the people will accept the Free State and relegated to private life, those who defied their wishes in the Dail, but, it says, until then there will be no stable government.

hope of reaching shelter before the gale swept down from the south. Others kept well off the coast, hoping to dodge the storm centre.

A full gale, according to the Beaufort scale, is a wind of 50 to 65 miles an hour and is surpassed in weather bureau parlance only by a "tornado," with wind of 75 miles an hour and up.

Heavy Snow Predicted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Heavy snow was predicted by the weather bureau today, for practically the entire northeastern section of the United States, with the probability that the Middle Atlantic tier also would be blanketed by tomorrow.

Forecasting snowfall will be accompanied on the Atlantic coast north of the Virginia capes, by gales of marked intensity, the forecast said, and a general warning to shipping was issued.

New England, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, the Great Lakes and the upper Ohio valley, the bureau indicated, may expect conditions which will make traveling popular among the juveniles.

"Considerably colder weather will overpread the region east of the Mississippi valley within the next 36 hours," said the official forecaster.

Police Search for Gunmen Who Held Up and Robbed Two Local Storekeepers

Following two hold robberies committed in stores in Coburn and Thorndike streets last night, the police today started every effort to bring about a capture of the gunmen who, after sandbagging their victims, escaped with approximately $50 from each place.

It was shortly after 5 o'clock when two men entered the store of Max Rindler at 43 Coburn street, at a time when the proprietor was alone. The robbers first asked for a package of cigarettes and when Rindler had his back turned to them as he was making change from a cash register, the two men, pointing guns at his head, ordered him to throw up his hands and to refrain from making any outcry at the risk of his life.

Frightened and gazing into the muzzle of two revolvers, the storekeeper obeyed their command and the two men went through the cash register which contained about $50, the police were informed by Mr. Rindler. Not satisfied with what they had obtained in the register, the men struck the proprietor over the head with something Rindler was unable to determine, knocking him for the time unconscious. As the man lay on the floor, the robbers went through his pockets and then, after again warning him to remain quiet or they would take his life, they walked out of the store. Almost immediately after, Mr. Rindler, summoned the police and Sgt. Bigelow, with a chauffeur, was dispatched to the scene. A close search of the district failed to reveal the two men. About 20 minutes after the Rindler robbery had been reported to headquarters, the police received another call to a store at 235 Thorndike street, conducted by Mr. Peter Coury, and learned the latter had been robbed by two men who brandished revolvers.

The police here were told the exact circumstances of the hold-up and the details, filled with those obtained from Rindler at the Coburn street robbery. Mr. Coury had likewise been ordered to throw up his hands at the point of guns displayed by both gunmen while they rifled the cash register of about $50.

The authorities believe the same two gunmen were responsible for both jobs. An automobile carrying them from Coburn to Thorndike street in about the period of time that intervened between the two hold-ups. Whether or not they had a chauffeur operating the car, the police could not ascertain from the meagre information furnished them by the two men who had been made their victims.

Both Mr. Rindler and Mr. Coury, however, while they could not give a vivid description of the robbers, agreed that they were about 25 years old. Police activities throughout the night failed to uncover any trace of the escaped gunmen but early this morning the inspectors' department under the direction of Capt. Atkinson inaugurated a sweeping investigation which is hoped will eventually result in the apprehension of the two guilty ones.

SETTLEMENT BY CONFERENCE
Conferences, not only industrial but international, are now the vogue. Barely had the Washington conference closed its deliberations when another great international conference was called to meet at Geneva for the purpose of adopting some plan for rehabilitating the war-torn nations of Europe so that they may be able to resume industrial activity and enter into trade relations on something like normal conditions.

It is alleged that the Washington conference has accomplished, or rather will accomplish, much good; and there is reason to believe that the Economic conference called to assemble at Geneva, will result in very important measures for the restoration of business in Europe.

Already Russia has accepted an invitation to attend which means that she has agreed to the conditions upon which the invitation was given, and that she tends to exclude all Polish tendencies from the conference, and a so to prevent the circulation of Soviet propaganda in the conference.

Germany will also be represented so that the gathering will certainly be one of universal importance. Whether the United States will participate is not yet settled; but it is certain that an invitation will be received. The leadership of the United States is regarded as very essential; but as the conference is one which may adopt plans for extending large credits to some of the backward countries, Uncle Sam may not care to strain his resources should he be drawn upon by the conference.

The state board of conciliation and arbitration is having great success in settling labor disputes through the conference method. As an example of this application of the conference it may be mentioned that the state board has settled hundreds of disputes between the shoe workers of Brockton and their employers. As a result, there has been steady work in Brockton, whereas there has been a continued series of strikes and lock-outs in Haverhill, Lynn, and other shoe centers.

It would be well to resort to the conference method of settling disputes far more generally, not only internationally, but in all human affairs. The conference offers an opportunity for mutual understanding that cannot be reached in any other way, and it saves long and expensive contention. We have seen the awful consequences of misunderstandings in the ravages of the world war which might have been averted had there been an agreement among the nations under which such differences should be settled by an international conference. This method of settling disputes and maintaining peace, is more in line with our advanced civilization than the barbarous resort to arms and the consequent destruction of cities and the devastation of whole countries by the terrible engines of modern warfare. Well may the conference be favored as one of the most valuable means of promoting good-will and preventing misunderstandings not only among nations, but between employer and employee in all the varied industrial problems, some of which hold possibilities of long-continued strife.

THE IRISH OUTLOOK
The election of Arthur Griffith as president of the Dail Eireann to succeed President de Valera will command very general confidence among the conservative people of Ireland. Griffith, like de Valera, wants to hold the republic until the Irish Free State becomes a reality, but there should be some hitch in the final negotiations with England, whose parliament will have to pass upon the new Irish constitution.

We do not believe that there will be any discussion among the people over the retirement of President de Valera. He represents the highest aspirations of the Irish people and in that light he will be respected by all classes for the reason that the present settlement is not regarded as a finality. It is generally conceded, however, to be the best policy to accept this settlement and make the most of it. It will give the people an opportunity to manage their own affairs, to develop the country's resources and to build up a prosperous nation. There is little doubt that Water will enter the new government for her own benefit as, if she remained isolated, her industries would soon decline.

Already great numbers of the Irish people in this country have expressed their intention of going back to Ireland once the new government will have been established. Most of them were forced to leave their native land for lack of opportunity to earn a livelihood, owing to the industrial decadence resulting from alien rule. It is understood also that American capital will be used to assist in building up new Irish industries that will afford profitable employment to large numbers of the people.

The first step in the application of the new order of things will be the evacuation of Ireland by the British troops and then the organization of a

SEEN AND HEARD

It hides only cost 15 cents a foot, why do shoes—but you figure it out, folks.

It can be said of most any candidate for office that he's a promising fellow.

Pirate is as pirate does, even the guy that grabs all the free matches at the cigar stand.

Try to buy a $25 shirt for $20. You'll find you can't get it for the price and the quality is paid.

Memory test: What did somebody say would happen 18 hours after the new government took oath of office?

It's terrible to wake up just after dreaming somebody passed you a pint of old-time stuff.

Alfreda Gera farm in Chelmsford broods like a regular gold mine, and brother Wright has no doubt about it.

Remember the time when teacher asked you "what you didn't know the difference between a pint and a quart?"

Add to the list of unnecessary 1922 reading: Federal government's pamphlet on "How to Keep Your Cellar Dry."

Add little day dreams: Why do women always faint when they discover that they have taken medicine without shaking the bottle?

Not sure woman said
A mace-looking woman entered a store and approached a clerk. "I want something out of the ordinary, something that none of the other women are wearing something, however, that will suit me." "Certainly, madam. Men's clothing, third floor."

Roosevelt's Reply
Mrs. Marion French told at a dinner in Newport a story about the Kaiser. "The Kaiser," she said, "liked to talk to Americans about 'The Kaiser'."

The professor's wife was dining out. During the evening the conversation turned to the matter of the professor's time she turned to the man at her side, who happened to be an author, and said: "Who is this Dean Swift, I should like to know?" "Which?" "The one I'm reading."

Love Found a Way
The man and the bride were among the 50 or so men and brides awaiting the municipal building. "I'm half a dollar short," said the man to the city official who was waiting for him. "What?" "Sorry I can't help you, buddy."

Got Big Return
Rex Beach, who has forsaken the profession of the novelist for the more lucrative one of scenario writing, said recently: "It is a good thing to dash off a scenario in a week or so and get $10,000 for it, but scenario writing, nevertheless, isn't all beads and rubies."

ANTI-LYNCHING BILL
The Dyer anti-lynching bill is meeting opposition in congress from southern democrats who do not wish to give up this method of punishing what they designate the "usual crime" or in other words the attacks upon white women by colored men.

It is difficult to understand how any member of congress can defend such barbarous methods or endorse such rule, which since 1859 caused the lynching of 3,436 victims and only 15 per cent of this number had been accused of the "usual crime."

The bill is also opposed on the ground of constitutionality, although Attorney General Daugherty has declared that the bill is constitutional. It is time congress passed some measure so as to put a stop to outrages that have disgraced the United States in the eyes of the outside world.

THE FLYING TORPEDO
The flying torpedo, steered by wireless and carrying tons of high explosives and poison gases, is now ready for use in battle.

Joseph Wright, a naval expert, says these torpedoes could be sent from Europe with the precision of rifle bullets and made to drop on any selected town. That statement is highly improbable inasmuch as the effect of gravity could not thus be overcome and the force of strong wind might blow the torpedoes thousands of miles off their course. It is true, however, that a swarm of such torpedoes loaded with phosgene gas could destroy a city like New York or kill the greater part of its people.

Perhaps some destructive agency of this kind is necessary to disarm the world and put an end to wars. Science in this way may compel universal peace. The next big war, if fought with new gases and flying torpedoes, would soon exterminate whole nations.

WILL AID FRANCE
Great Britain has decided to end the friction between herself and France by entering into an agreement to go to the aid of France if the latter should be attacked by Germany at any future time. By so doing, England will serve her own interests perhaps quite as well as those of France.

Business is looking brighter in Lowell as the days go by. Note the number of big real estate deals lately published in The Sun.

EX-CONG. MILLER

DIES AT ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 11.—Clarence B. Miller, of Duluth, Minn., secretary of the republican national committee and former congressman, died at a hospital here late yesterday.

He was operated on for appendicitis Jan. 2nd and his condition became critical due to heart trouble.

Mr. Miller became ill while visiting in Duluth during the Christmas holidays, and when he was taken to the hospital here it was necessary to postpone an operation for a day on account of his weak heart.

For several days after the operation for appendicitis Mr. Miller's condition was declared "very critical," and on Sunday it was said he had shown great improvement. Last night, however, complications developed and he weakened rapidly, the end coming at 4:35 p. m.

Mr. Miller was born in Goodhue county, Minnesota, in 1872. He was graduated from the University of Minnesota law school in 1903.

During a law practice in Duluth, Mr. Miller was elected state representative in 1902 and the next year was elected to congress, where he served 10 years.

In 1910 Mr. Miller was chosen as assistant secretary of the republican national committee and at the beginning of the republican campaign in the spring of 1920 he was made secretary of the committee. After the campaign Mr. Miller carried on his law practice in Washington, D. C.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT
William Z. Foster, just returned from a six-month tour of Russia and the other European countries, will speak at a mass meeting at Colonial hall at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

He will be joined by the Communist International and the Red International of Labor Unions, and was able to attend both.

Delany Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, has suggested the holding of another on next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. There is abundant proof at hand that the affair will be a tremendous success from every viewpoint and the committee is diligently at work on the plans. A dinner will be served, with an entertainment as varied as it will be enjoyable, and all in all, there promises to be a notable gathering of knights at the "stag."

I see that a bill to provide for a seven months' period of daylight saving this year has been filed in the house of representatives by Rep. Doyle of New Bedford. The bill would put the clock ahead one hour the last Sunday of March and put it back an hour the last Sunday in October. Under the present arrangement daylight saving begins the last Sunday in April and terminates the last Sunday in September. Rep. Doyle, on the other hand, in behalf of those who have continually protested against daylight saving, a bill to repeal that practice has also been filed by Rep. Griswold of Greenfield. Where one may take his choice, it's either a case of being with Doyle or with Griswold.

Several score of men who had claimed exemption under the selective service act on the ground of being aliens were denied citizenship by a justice of the federal court in Boston, and when they applied to receive their final papers recently, all of the applicants at the time the act was put in operation had their first papers, but when they appeared before the draft boards claimed exemption on the grounds that they were aliens.

The present tea harvesting season is here. I am informed that New Hampshire tea harvesters are feeling the economy in the shipment of ice this winter. Instead of storing the ice in big storerooms for the winter and shipping it to the large cities in the summer, they are now shipping it as soon as it is harvested to be stored in big city warehouses.

Transportation during the hot weather is responsible for an enormous loss and by the new plan it is hoped to minimize such loss. Just how the big city dealers will feel on this plan has not been chronicled as yet.

The wonderful dancing exhibitions given by the pupils of Thomas E. Stanton at the annual reception held in Lincoln hall Monday night surely reflected great credit on that well-known teacher. The 30 odd little girls who portrayed various dances in such splendid style were the recipients of generous applause on the part of the large crowd that turned out to witness this annual event. Among those present were many former pupils of Mr. Stanton.

I am told that the unexampled success of the last "stag" party of Bishop

THE CHILDREN'S HOME

Annual Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon—Present Officers Were Re-elected

A summary of the work accomplished by the Children's Home in the last 20 years, with thanks to the public and press for valuable assistance rendered, featured the annual report of the matron, Miss Ellen O'Leary, at the 20th annual meeting of the home in the Hotel square yesterday afternoon. Edward W. Trull, treasurer, also read his annual report, which showed that a small balance is left in the treasury after all the bills for the year have been paid.

President Joseph W. Griffin called the meeting to order, and Clerk William W. Buzell's report of the last meeting was read, approved and closed on file. After the treasurer's and matron's reports had been read, the following officers were re-elected: President, Joseph W. Griffin; Vice President, Edward P. Slattery; Treasurer, Edward W. Trull; Clerk, William W. Buzell; Matron, Miss Ellen O'Leary; Committee on Finance and Disbursements, Joseph W. Griffin, Edward W. Trull, Dr. W. H. B. Buzell, James P. Ramsay and William W. Buzell; Committee on Management and Supplies, Miss E. W. O'Leary, Mrs. J. H. O'Leary, Mrs. Harry C. Pollard, Mrs. H. S. Fletcher, Mrs. Clara Fletcher, Mrs. Clara Kidder and Mrs. Fannie Ball; Committee on Entertainment, Joseph W. Griffin and Harry C. Pollard; Mrs. Fannie Ball was chosen a director by an unanimous vote.

Miss Ellen O'Leary's report as matron was as follows:

"On Jan. 2 we celebrated our 20th anniversary by keeping open house for our friends and relatives. Words of cheer and best wishes for the continued success of the home. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon there was a fine musical entertainment by local talent which was much enjoyed by all present."

"As we look back 20 years we can see much good work done and from a small beginning the progress has been steady and forward. Thousands of children have found shelter at the home, some coming in their infancy and remaining until some other home was provided for them. Others came as young children and have grown to larger boys and girls able to go out and work for themselves. Some have married with good families and have homes and children of their own. Many of our boys served in the world war and no matter where our children have gone or what they are doing, they do not forget the Children's Home in Lowell and they are children, young men and women, whom the home feels proud of at all times."

"I am proud that I have been privileged to have had a part in shaping their lives and starting them on the right way."

"The work has been done hopefully and cheerfully and I have tried to put my best service into it. While the task has been great, the reward has been greater. Seeing these children grown up and developed into such young men and women is surely a great reward for the time, patience and strength spent on them."

"The home had a small beginning in a hired house in Kirk street, which in a short time was bought and put into excellent repair at a considerable expense. Then the clock took the property to make room for the present high school extension and we secured the estate we now occupy in the Hotel square. We have been here five years and while we purchased the place for a reasonable sum, we have since improved the property by the addition of new heating, plumbing, baths, showers, electric lights, life escapes, painted walls, new floors in some of the rooms, steel ceilings and the home is about modern in almost all details. There are yet some things to be done, however, and we hope to accomplish these as soon as the treasury will afford it. All bills have been paid and the work is supported by public charity and by small weekly payments

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild, laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no had after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

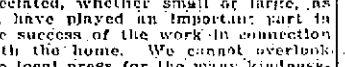

Headaches, "biliousness" and that irritable feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded, brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 30c. Adv.

FIVE EYESIGHT "DON'TS"

BY GUY A. HENRY,
Director General, Eyesight Conservation Council.

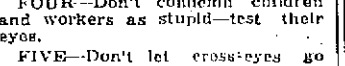

ONE—Don't read or work with poor illumination—that's the worst eye abuse.

TWO—Don't read facing the light and "glaring" it.

THREE—Don't read by an intense light while the rest of the room is dark. Illumination should be general, not concentrated.

FOUR—Don't condemn children and workers as stupid—test their eyes.

FIVE—Don't let cross-eyes go neglected. They may lead to blindness in later life.

FATIGUE—A Menace to Progress

In every line of human endeavor, it's the same story—the pace is getting swifter—competition fiercer. To conquer one must not only have the brains, initiative and vision, but the energy and endurance to "put it over," as well. Fatigue is a merciless handicap. According to Dr. Harrington of the Massachusetts Industrial Bureau, "fatigue comes on more quickly from eye strain than from any amount of muscular work."

Most of us—70%—suffer from eye strain, unknowingly. Know—don't "guess"—where you stand. Get the advice of an optical specialist.

Theatregoers Hiss American Names

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Munich theatregoers are still touchy on the subject of America, it appears from an incident just reported here. The Neue Berliner Zeitung tells how an audience in the Bavarian capital fairly raised the roof in objection to the American background and American names being used in a new theatrical production. They hooted and hissed and stamped and finally the performance was brought to a stop. The versatile producer readily laid his scenes in the Caucasus. The name of one character was changed from "Smith" to "Smirski" and that of "Gladys Chicago, Dollar Princess" to "Marsha Petrograd, Millionaire's daughter." The metamorphosed play was a success.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—Expenditures of $18,253 during 1921, were reported by the Good Government Association, an organization of voters active in local politics, in a statement filed with the city clerk. The money was spent for campaign literature and advertising. The association supported in the city election campaign John R. Murphy, defeated candidate for mayor and three candidates for the city council, of whom only one was elected. The statement showed contributions aggregating $24,195.05.

NERVOUS AND HALF-SICK WOMEN

These Letters Recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Will Interest You

For Your Own Good Please Read Them

Youngstown, Ohio.—"Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt me and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every month and was just nearly all in. Finally my husband said to me one day, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?' and I said, 'I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.' So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and the neighbors asked me what I was doing and said, 'Surely it must be doing you good all right.' I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you."—Mrs. ELMER HEASLEY, 141 S. Jackson St., Youngstown, Ohio.

"I was very nervous and run-down," writes Mrs. L. E. Weiss of 706 Louisiana St., New Orleans, La. "I would often sit down and cry, and was always blue and had no ambition. I was this way for over a year and had allowed myself to get into quite a serious condition. One day I saw your advertisement in the daily paper and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. I have improved ever since taking the third bottle and find it is the best medicine I have ever taken."

Benefited by First Bottle

"I was completely run down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy to get up when once I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in our paper 'The Indiana Daily Times,' and learned all about it. I received results from the very first bottle and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH REINHOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

"You should pay heed to the experience of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true."

LIEN ON THE AUTOMOBILE WOULD NOT TAKE A MILLION FOR IT

Legislature to Consider New Bill Relative to Injuries by Automobile

(Special to "The Sun")
BOSTON, Jan. 11.—A bill permitting a person injured by an automobile driven by another to have a lien on the automobile, for the satisfaction of any judgment he may recover against the owner, is recommended for the consideration of the legislature, in a report filed today by the special insurance commission.

This commission was created last June, and was directed to advise the legislature with respect to several insurance problems. It consists of Clarence W. Hubbs of Worcester, commissioner of insurance in this state; Frederic C. Nichols of Pittsburg, and John E. Oldham of Waltham.

The report states that the number of non-fatal injuries in which automobiles were involved increased steadily until 1920, when a considerable reduction was noted. The non-fatal injuries also increased until 1921, when there was a remarkable drop as compared with the preceding year. It points out, however, that the percentage of injuries to motor vehicles operated has steadily declined since 1918, and in 1921, although the number of fatal accidents was much larger than in 1920, this increase was not equivalent to the increase in motor vehicle registrations.

Three schemes for indemnifying those injured in automobile accidents have been suggested, the commission says. One of these would compel each owner of a motor vehicle to carry insurance, or to furnish a bond, for the protection of any one who might be injured. This the commission declines to recommend, asserting that because of losses on this class of business the insurance companies are beginning to drop the lines a little closer with respect to those to whom they will sell insurance, and further that compulsory insurance might have the effect of increasing accidents. "It must be borne in mind," the report says, "that many persons who do not at present insure their cars belong to the irresponsible class, and a class of persons responsible financially is apt to be careless of the rights of others." There is just reason, it says, for apprehension that such persons, if compelled to insure, might feel that this financial protection given the public would warrant less restraint in their acts as operators.

The second scheme suggested is that the state establish a system of benefits similar to that now provided under the workmen's compensation act. The commission reports that such a system, if operated on a scale of benefits affording adequate indemnity to injured persons, would probably be more expensive than liability insurance, and at the same time would subject the state to being mulcted heavily for fraudulent and excessive loss payments.

The commission therefore recommends legislation providing that any person thus injured shall have a lien on the motor vehicle for the satisfaction of his claim. It is copied from the existing law. A bill presented provided that such lien must be claimed within fourteen days after the injury. It is to have precedence over all properly rights in the automobile.

With reference to permitting mutual insurance companies to issue policies without provision for assessments upon the policyholder, the commission reports that the proposed change is not necessary in the sense that the companies cannot get along without it, but on the other hand there is nothing objectionable to it, provided each company has established a proper surplus for the protection of its policyholders.

The commission informs the general court that the issue involved is purely one of public policy, which the general court alone can determine. It therefore makes no recommendation, but submits a bill which would permit the issuance of non-assessable policies with a margin of safety adequate for the protection of policyholders, should the general court decide that such a change from existing law is advisable.

Other recommendations of the commission are:—

That mutual companies be permitted to write all classes of insurance except life insurance.

That the preliminary term method of valuation of life insurance policies be permitted in this state. In place of the not level terminal reserve system, from which every state except Massachusetts has departed to a greater or less degree. The commission states that the latter system makes the cost of securing a new company well-nigh prohibitive, and its retention, therefore, has the effect of securing a practical monopoly to the established companies. The bill recommended by the commission is substantially the New Jersey law.

That insurance companies be permitted, under proper regulations to invest in public funds and municipal securities of the Dominion of Canada and of foreign nations in which they are authorized to transact business; in railroad equipment trust notes; in bonds of telephone and light and power companies; in bankers' acceptances; in farm loan bonds; and in bonds secured by the deposit of securities in which they are permitted to invest.

That it is inadvisable to enact legislation providing that companies financing the sale of automobiles on credit shall not be permitted to place in a company of their own choosing the insurance on such automobiles. The commission points out that in cases of this kind the legal title to the automobile remains in the financing company which, it says, clearly has the right to protect its interest with insurance.

THEATRE GRANTED TEMPORARY LICENSE

The Merrimack Square theatre was granted a temporary license, for the time for two weeks, by the license commission at its meeting last evening. Owing to illness, Chairman Hansen was not present. Two weeks ago the commission granted the Lowell Theatres Co., which is operating the Merrimack Square theatre, a temporary permit valid until January 10, yesterday being the date of expiration. It seems that there are still some things dealing with the petition for the license, which was objected to at the outset by the management of the New Theatre, that have not been cleared up to the satisfaction of the board.

It is claimed that the rule is the outcome of certain episodes during the season of 1921, that aroused much comment in tennis circles.

MRS. COSTELLO SUFFERED SO MUCH LIFE HELD LITTLE HOPE FOR HER—NOW WELL

"Positively, I wouldn't take a million dollars for the good Tangle has done me," declared Mrs. Rose Costello, 202 Carleton st., Providence, R. I. "I am now 52 years of age, but judging from the way I feel since taking Tangle, I am only about 40. I think everybody will agree with me that there is something unusual about a medicine that will make a person of my age gain 12 pounds in weight. That's just what Tangle has done for me, and more, too, for since taking it I eat better, sleep better and feel better than I have in years. Everything is quite different with me now to what it was for the past four years. My appetite was so poor I went to the table more from habit than I did because I wanted to eat and nothing tasted right. I just tossed and tumbled most of my nights, and it seemed that there was no good sleep for me. I lost over 20 pounds in weight and looked so thin, pale and weak my friends were worried about me. I felt so tired all the time and was going down so rapidly that I thought I was doomed to go from bad to worse. Life held no hope or charm for me, and I sometimes felt that the sooner it was over with the better for me."

"Well, it was certainly the luckiest day of my life when I got Tangle. It has built me up and I feel like a different person. My appetite is simply splendid and my food nourishes me. For I feel strong and well all the time. In fact, I feel just like in every way, I wouldn't think of being without Tangle. No other medicine can compare with it."

WALKER-ROGERS POST

Meeting of Veterans of Foreign Wars—Haverhill Post Commander, Guest

Walker-Rogers Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held an interesting meeting in Memorial hall last evening. Commander George Crowell presided. A guest of the meeting was Commander William Stone of Haverhill post, who gave an address. The members voted to hold a public installation of officers at the next meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 24, a special committee being chosen to make arrangements. The post also plans to form a ladies auxiliary and the following committee was picked to start work on this project: Carroll Pingree, Maj. Anthony Milton, Frank Hotchkiss and Frank E. Hart. Plans for the observance of Memorial day, May 30, were discussed and a committee to arrange for the services that day was appointed consisting of Robert A. Smith, David S. Caddell, Carroll Pingree, Maj. Anthony Milton, and Frank E. Hart.

POSTAL SUB-STATION FOR CENTRALVILLE

Plans for a postal sub-station in Centralville received new impetus at a meeting of the Centralville Improvement association last evening, when it was announced that as a result of a request sent to Congressman John Jacob Rogers some time ago, an investigation is now being conducted by officials of the postoffice department. The association believes that there is enough postal business in that section of Lowell to warrant the establishing of a postal station there, and Congressman Rogers' evident desire to find a solution to the problem aroused much enthusiasm last evening.

The plans for the paving of Lakeview avenue came up again for discussion last evening. The work is to come now under the board of public service and the improvement committee of the association. Dr. Michael A. Tighe, chairman, was instructed to get in touch with the board members as soon as possible to have the Lakeview project added to this year's street improvement plans.

Centralville citizens are also desirous of securing a skating rink in that part of the city. There are two tracts of land available, one the Greenbush school yard, and another on Euclid avenue. Mayor Brown is a member of the association.

The next meeting will be held on the second Tuesday in February and will be open to the public. There will be a noted speaker and a program of musical entertainment.

REVISED PRICES ON THE CADILLAC

Geo. R. Dana & Son inform the writer that while the revised prices on the Cadillac f.o.b. Detroit show a reduction of $140 to $440, dependent upon the model, the prices f.o.b. Lowell show an even greater reduction from former prices, while today the car is offered the purchaser in the most complete touring form of any car of which Mr. Dana has information; in fact, there seems to be no necessity for the additional expenditure of one penny by an owner to fit the car for an across-the-continent trip.

The salesroom of Geo. R. Dana & Son is now set with both open and enclosed models and the inspection by admirers of fine motor cars is earnestly solicited and this invitation is intended to mean everybody in Lowell. In an interview Dana, Sr., became reminiscent and told of his early engagement in the motor car business, which was at a time when the bare chassis and body only were sold the customer and then ensued a lot of figuring and discussion regarding prices and kind of top, windshield, speedometer, clock, lamps, horn, spare tire carrier, etc., etc., which often led to unpleasantness, as these necessities often figured up to approximately 25 per cent additional to the price which the customer had fixed in his mind would be his only expenditure.

Now the purchaser may receive a Cadillac car fitted for a trip of thousands of miles and gasoline and oil supply may be his only thought.

THE TRIP THROUGH THE TUBE

Mr. Bile leaves the table, enters the mouth, hurries past the teeth and begins the tortuous journey through the stomach, intestines and alimentary tract, a distance of 30 feet over the route of the human food tube. Ordinarily this should require about ten (10) hours in transit—if it were not for a "block in the line" commonly called Constipation.

Congestion in the digestive organs obstructs the free passage of waste matter and cripples the natural function. When you feel bloated and heavy, with dull pains in the head, no spirit, no appetite, no energy—it is thus to do something! Keep the food tube clear and clean by flushing the kidneys and bowels with the well known laxative preparation which is used and endorsed by 25,000 practicing physicians and pharmacists—A. D. S. Hepatic Salts. A saline laxative and uric acid solvent which not only corrects by easy action but results in permanent relief. For sale by Ray F. Webster, 401 Bridge st.—Adv.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN POSTAGE RATES

A change in postage rates has been made which will be of interest to people who send mail to certain foreign countries. Attention is invited to the fact that the special rate of postage of one cent for each four ounces for newspapers and publications for foreign countries applies only to publications which are entered as second class matter at post offices and to copies of such publications which are separately wrapped with postage paid by stamps affixed.

This special rate does not affect the rate of one cent for each two ounces applicable to printed matter in general. Therefore, publications which are not entered as second class matter are available as printed matter at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

As the domestic rates of postage apply to second-class matter for Bolivia, Canada, Colombia, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Honduras Republic, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, El Salvador and Shanghai, second-class publications may be mailed to these countries by the public at the rate of one cent for each four ounces and by publishers and news agents at the second class pound rates of postage.

It has been announced that on and after Jan. 1, 1922 the domestic postage rate of 2 cents an ounce or fraction thereof will apply to letters for Argentina, Brazil, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Jamaica and Martinique.

Under the option granted by Article 3 of the Madrid convention, newspapers and publications separately wrapped, will be accepted for mailing to foreign countries at the postage rate of 1 cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, this rate being provided for with the express condition that a full rate will be charged upon each newspaper or publication even though several copies are included under the same wrapper or cover. Accordingly senders are requested to mail each newspaper or publication under a separate wrapper or cover.

THE AFFAIRS OF JANE

Some Refreshing Views on The Movies by Harry Carey

NICE LITTLE FAMILY GROUP—DOESN'T LOOK LIKE A MOVIE PAIR. DOES IT? RUB IT! HARRY CAREY, MRS. CAREY AND "DOUBT," AND THEY LOOK JUST AS PLAIN AND UNEXPECTED AS THIS IN THE HOTEL ASTOR, NEW YORK

By JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Meeting Harry Carey is as refreshing as meeting a country cousin and listening to a discussion of the things that come up out of the soil.

Carey lives on a 17,500-acre ranch in California the year around and his views on the movies are as refreshing as his views on ranching.

"I'm in the movies for what money I can get out of them," Carey told me. "What's the difference between him and most of the film players I have met—he admits 'art for money's sake' is his creed."

He doesn't want to do Shakespeare or Shaw for the screen and he realizes that the public only wants him as a cowboy actor.

Carey is not under contract at present. That gives him some latitude in his remarks. However, he makes it clear that his remarks are generalities and do not apply specifically to any one concern. Here are some of the things he says:

"When you go out on location for a week or two there's no telling who will be a new star when you return. Some girl who played as an extra the week before is billed as the star of a new picture and thousands of dollars are spent to advertise her. She flares across the horizon and in a short time is forgotten."

"When you ask for a contract the first question a producer asks you is how much it will cost you to make a picture like a 'Wally Reid' or a 'Fairbanks' or a 'Chaplin' and if you tell them the truth, that you can't do that kind of a picture, you don't get the contract. The producer, like everyone else in the business, is out for the money."

"There are few leaders in the industry. You can count them on one hand. The rest are followers. They remind me of the sheep on my ranch. When Fairbanks made 'The Three Musketeers' he started an epidemic of musketeers. The ordinary producer sits back and watches the leaders to see what they are doing—and what pictures make money."

"Hammarskjold made money. The screen is still flooded with imitations of it. 'Over the Hill' made money for Fox. Others are trying to get rich with pictures patterned after it."

"The main trouble with the picture industry today is this business of imitating. It's done for money. And it's slight consideration with most producers. Yet a picture that imitates doesn't make money. The fellows who are getting the most out of the business are the ones who are creating, who are doing something new. Griffith is the best example."

"Yes, the two black marks against the industry are imitation of financial successes and the exploitation of players of unknown or little merit as stars."

Carey discussed the present movement within the motion picture industry to reform the business. "The movies need reform—everyone in the industry admits that," he said. "But the place to start reforming is not with the office boys. A few of them have been fired. The changes must be made nearer the top of the industry."

The Carey Family

If Carey impresses one as a ranchman more than an actor, Mrs. Carey impresses one more as a ranchman's wife than an actor's wife. And here's the joke to that—New York city is Carey's home and Mrs. Carey was an actress and of a stage family.

The other member of this ranching-acting family is "Doubt," who entered the household seven months ago without a shirt to his back, but with a shock of brick-red hair. Hence his dad calls him "Doubt."

And here's another joke about Carey. The fans won't accept him as anything but a cowboy, or, at least, producers won't let him play anything but cowboy pictures. He wants to do a sea picture, one like those of Hobart Bosworth.

And Carey never was a cowboy and is a sailor. He owns a four-masted schooner and takes it on long cruises along the Pacific coast.

Lungs Sore From Coughing

ALLEN'S LUNG HEALER

Mr. Alfred Hanson of 17 Cedar St.,
Lynn, Has Found This Remedy
a Friend in Need

Mr. H. J. Allen:
Dear Sir—I have used Allen's Lung
Healer a number of years and as I have always found it very effective in all kinds of coughs and colds, especially on the lungs, I want to tell you that I would not be without it in the house.
It was recommended to me at a time when I was suffering from a deep-seated cold on the lungs which had run me down badly. At times I was unable to work because of the distress in my lungs from coughing. The first bottle greatly relieved me and the second cured me entirely so that I felt like a different man. I consider it a most remarkable and reliable lung and cough medicine.
Gratefully yours,
ALFRED HANSON,

This is a model of a statue proposed to mark the spot where the Irish coast where the Lusitania was torpedoed. It is Georges DuBois, noted French sculptor. Frenchmen who propose the monument would have it set on a floating raft representing wreckage and anchored at the scene of the disaster. Cable to shore would permit its illumination at night.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 11.—Charles A. Matava, 40, a mill worker, committed suicide by asphyxiation this morning at his home. He is a native of Poland and has been despondent over the death of his two small children last year. His room was covered with pictures of the children on his chest, was found with his wife.

DANFORTH, Me., Jan. 11.—A stranger is in custody here at Danforth, Me., after being taken into custody for impersonating a federal officer. He came to Danforth Tuesday morning and was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Horace Bodgett. The man claimed that he was engaged in looking up draft evaders. He was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Horace Bodgett to show his authorities. He was unable to do so, was detained, but made his escape. He appeared in Danforth today and when Constable Shea attempted to detain him, he ran for the woods. The officer pursued and was twice shot at by the fugitive. The officer responded, hitting the man in the foot and capturing him. The wound is not serious.

In the foreground, a man in a dark suit and tie is looking down at a document he is holding. The background is filled with the silhouettes of many people, suggesting a large gathering or ceremony. The image has a high-contrast, grainy quality.

An attempt to raid the premises of a still known as the Chelmsford Centre farm by Federal Prohibition agents recently proved fruitless and turned into a humorous incident and a joke on the officers. It became known the day before that it was related to some persons being in a mash to be used for making moonshine. It happened that the ensilage, which was rapidly deteriorating in a field, gave forth a strong odor of alcohol. When the officers were on duty, the alcoholic odor he immediately notified the prohibition agents.

Armed with a search warrant the officers called on the farmer and prohibition agents. The farmer told the officers had about turned the whole place upside down in their endeavors to locate moonshine, apparatus or mash, when suddenly one of the officers discovered the ensilage and the party reached the unexpected conclusion that it was responsible for the odor. Thus the federal agents, disappointed to say the least, left the premises admitting that the joke was on them.

Most other industries were flat or advanced slightly. Oil and rails, the market steadied within the first half hour on renewed buying of Mexican bonds. Foreign exchange quotations were lower, especially French and Italian rates.

The recovery of Mexican Petroleum was followed by advances of 1 to 2 points in Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas company and Houston Oil Company, and also in American Copper, food specialties and chair stocks. American Locomotive and Pullman Standard, American Corn Products and May Department Stores rose 1 to 3 points. Crucible and Fullerton lagged. Prices continued generally sluggish.
